

OUR CIRCULATION IN RICHMOND AND MADISON COUNTY IS EQUAL TO THE COMBINED CIRCULATION OF ALL OTHER COUNTY PAPERS

ALL THE NEWS
—AT—MINIMUM COST

The Climax-Madisonian

By Mail (weekly) to January 1, 1916, for only

25 cts

This offer is open to NEW subscribers only, and is made with the view of inducing those who have not been readers of this paper to "get acquainted" with us.

Limited To New Subscribers

Do It Today

Prewitt Reunion

The Prewitt reunion was held last week at Maple Grove, a lovely old home on the Nashville and Nashville Railroad Company. There were present one hundred and fifty people, most of them descendants of James Prewitt, William and Bryd Prewitt. A lovely dinner was served and the affair was enjoyed by all present.

L. & N. Sued

The city of Shelbyville has filed suit in Shelby Circuit Court to recover damages in the sum of $5,000 from the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company for its alleged failure to maintain Eleventh street, along which its track runs, in accordance with the provisions of a contract, executed in 1880, when the franchise was granted.

Business Houses Closed

In accordance with a movement inaugurated by the Paris Commercial Club, nearly every business house in the city closed its doors last Wednesday in order to give their employees an opportunity to visit the Bourbon Fair.

Municipal Ownership

The city council at Lancaster has gone on record as favoring municipal ownership of the electric light plant in that city, and a committee is now at work on the undertaking. If purchased, the plant will be improved and a twenty-four hour schedule adopted. At present the lights burn only until midnight.

If you can spare it, we will appreciate that dollar

Addresses Teachers.

Mrs. Desha Ireenkridge, of Lexington, one of the most forceful advocates of "Equal Suffrage," electrified the school teachers at the Clark County Institutes on last Thursday at Winchester with one of her eloquent talks. In the evening she spoke on the same subject to the citizens in general. Thursday morning Mrs. I. H. Boothe, wife of Prof. Boothe, of the Eastern State Normal, who conducted the Institute, delivered an able and pleasing address to the teachers on "Domestic Science."

Lighted A Match

A party composed of E. A. Eastin, M. A. Johns, E. P. Eastins, G. Johns and Cecil Burton left Valley View Thursday in a four-ton motor boat for Camp Nelson on the Kentucky river. When near their destination, their craft ran against a sand bar. They got out and pushed their craft from its moorings, and then the gasoline engine refused to work. One of the party lighted a match and began an examination of the gasoline tank. There was a sudden flash, a fire, and five fellows taking to the water like ducks. The launch was a complete wreck and the young men had to "hoof" it back to Valley View, bereft of spirit, but wiser men. It doesn't do monkey with lightning matches and gasoline. They have a skinning every time they come in contact with each other.

The Next Best Thing to the Pine Forest for Cold Is—

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey which goes to the very root of cold troubles. It clears the throat and gives relief from that clogged and stuffed feeling. The pine have ever been the friend of man in driving away colds. Moreover the pine honey qualities are peculiarly effective in fighting children's colds. Remember that a cold broken at the start greatly removes the possibility of complications. 25c. adv

Old-fashioned New Orleans Molasses at Lackey & Todd's. Phone 62. 7-14

Box Supper.

There will be a box supper at the Speedwell school house Friday night. Everybody cordially invited. Proceeds to be used for benefit of school.

Breaks Both Arms.

Hardin, the 12 year old son of Ed Brandenburg, of East Irvine, fell from a barn loft a few days ago and sustained a fracture of both arms below the elbows and a broken nose. He was otherwise bruised and mutilated. A surgeon dressed his injuries and he is now able to be out.—Irvine Sun.

Hon. B. A. Crutcher.

Owing to oversight, the name of Hon. B. A. Crutcher was omitted from the list of Democratic nominees to be voted for in the general election. Henceforth, the name of Mr. Crutcher will be found in its proper place, and there is no doubt he will poll the full strength of the ticket in November.

Visits Kentucky.

Vice-president Thomas R. Marshall and wife visited Kentucky last week. Mr. Marshall delivered an address at Paris last Wednesday, and at the Harrodsburg Chautauqua on Thursday. The distinguished visitors were also entertained by the Commercial bodies of Lexington, Wednesday afternoon. They were much impressed with Kentucky and left Friday for Washington City.

Beautiful Talk by Rev. Stanley!

Rev. William Stanley who has been the guest of Rev. C. K. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Collins made a beautiful and impressive talk on Wednesday evening at the Christian church. His subject, "Old Age the Crowning Glory of Life" was treated in an interesting manner and will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to hear him. Though in his eighty-fourth year, Rev. Stanley is well preserved and vigorous and possesses a remarkably fine voice. A large audience greeted him and extended a cordial welcome to him and his splendid wife.

Held Over.

After an investigation by Judge Newton and County Attorney Carpenter, during which some fifteen witnesses were examined, a warrant was issued for the arrest of Bud Puckett, charged with shooting Robt. Puckett, at Iron Mound over two weeks ago. Robt. Puckett was shot from ambush at night, and the fact that it was alleged to have been an old grudge between the two Pucketts and other circumstances brought out at the inquiry caused a warrant to be issued for Bud Puckett. At an examining trial Monday the accused man was held over for the grand jury under $2,500 bail. The wounded man is still in the hospital at Winchester and his physician holds out little hope for his recovery. Bud Puckett claims he is innocent and says he will be able to establish an alibi.—Estill Tribune.

Making Good.

The Beaumont (Texas) Enterprise, one of the leading newspapers of that thriving Southwestern city, gives a glowing account of a young Kentucky woman who is making a great success in the lumber business in Beaumont. In part the article says:

"With the opening of an office in Beaumont about one year ago, the Yellow Pine Company, of Philadelphia, issued circular letters to the lumber manufacturers in Texas and Louisiana announcing that E. O. Nash had been appointed their purchasing agent for the southwest. "E. O. Nash arrived in Beaumont during July, 1914, arranged the office in the Weiss building, and then personally visited the saw mills in this territory. Then it was that the mill men shook their heads—E. O. Nash was an attractive young woman with keen business sense. Since that time, however, Miss Evelyn Nash has convinced those doubtful lumber men that even a woman may achieve a success in the lumber business if she is possessed of the necessary grit, and will acquire ideas. Miss Nash is a native of the Bluegrass section of Kentucky. She was born in Kentucky, and but a few years ago she went to Philadelphia where she was engaged as a stenographer for the Long-Bell Co. Since then she has been employed continuously in the business end of the lumber industry. Miss Nash has the distinction of having been the only "honorary" in the Lumbermen's parade during the Southern Texas Fair last year, the December issue of the American Lumberman carrying a half-tone cut of the automobile wrapped in a yellow pine banner.

"The most effective way in which Miss Nash has shown her acute sense of the lumber business, comes from the fact that the mill men throughout the southwest say she is the "closest figure" they come in contact with.

"When a shipment is concentrated at Port Arthur, Miss Nash personally supervises the loading and shipping to the home yards in the Quaker City."

Miss Evelyn Nash is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nash, of this city, and left Richmond more than a year ago to take charge of the Long-Bell Lumber Co.'s office at Beaumont. She is a charming young woman, plucky and full of energy, and her many friends in this city will be pleased to know she is making good in the business world.

The European War.

Is destruction to life and property. Our business is to build up, to repair, and do general job work. Try us on your next job.

TODD & TAYLOR.

Contractors and Builders. Back of Opera House, Phone 987, Richmond, Ky.

It's our dollar and WE NEED IT.

BRITISH LINER IS TORPEDOED

Two Americans Aboard Are Reported Safe.

NO WARNING TO HESPERIAN

Submarine Attack on Liner With Americans Aboard Without Warning Is Regarded as Serious Breach of Promise Made to U. S.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Consul Wood at Queenstown, made this report to the state department: "The Hesperian torpedoed by German submarine seventy miles southeast of Fastnet. One or two Americans aboard. None lost. Loss of life about eight. Vessel has not sunk. Admiralty boats landed passengers and crew of 250 aboard. The steamer's hull forward, but the vessel was not damaged. There were forty-five Canadian troops aboard unorganized and mainly unarmed. Also one 4.7-inch gun mounted and visible on stern of vessel bound for Montreal."

Queenstown, Sept. 6.—The Hesperian was struck by a torpedo while seventy miles southeast of Fastnet, Ireland, on her way to Montreal. The ship was an Allan liner, a 11,000-ton vessel and had about three hundred passengers and a crew of 250 aboard. Not a soul on the steamer, though there were many persons on deck, and a strict lookout was being kept, saw anything that resembled a periscope either before or after the ship was hit. The torpedo tore a hole in the steamer's hull forward, but the wound was not fatal. She was traveling with her compartments closed, a precaution which may have saved her. According to the most accurate information so far obtainable there were American citizens among the passengers. The liner carried a 4.7-inch gun mounted and visible on the stern.

Eight lives were lost, according to a careful compilation made by Consul Wood. The ship was not damaged. Thirty-seven persons were more or less seriously injured. Three of the lifeboats capsized as they were being launched and their occupants were dumped into the water.

There was no panic and very little excitement. There was not a person on board but realized the moment the explosion occurred that either a torpedo or a mine had struck the vessel. Life belts were strapped on immediately. The ship's crew lowered the boats began a few minutes later. Long before the ship had taken a serious list all of the passengers were overboard and only the captain, with his officers and a few of the crew remained.

It has been suggested by some of the passengers that the ship was not struck by a torpedo but collided with a floating mine. The fact that the ship was apparently hit forward and that the wound was not fatal seems in a sense to support this theory, though the officers of the Hesperian lean to the belief that a torpedo did the work.

The wireless call for assistance was sent out simultaneously with the explosion and a government steamer and a number of patrol boats in the nearby waters immediately put out to the rescue. Until they reached the spot the lifeboats, filled with the Hesperian's passengers, stood by the disabled steamer while Captain Main and some of his crew remained on board.

The patrol boats with all of the passengers and most of the crew, arrived here. Already additional patrol boats had been sent out to save the vessel and shortly after their arrival a wireless message said that the Hesperian probably could be safely towed to Queenstown.

There seems to be no question of doubt that a submarine was not sighted. The explosion was not slighted. J. H. Brookington, a passenger, is one of the many survivors who attests this fact. It is supposed that the submarine, if it was a submarine, had been lying in wait for a victim and as soon as the Hesperian was sighted, it approached, maneuvered quickly, to strike and having discharged the torpedo submerged and fled.

All of the passengers pay the highest tribute to the efficiency of the crew and the coolness of Captain Main.

ANGLO-FRENCH FINANCIERS

Headed For America to Better Financial Condition of Countries.

London, Sept. 6.—The official press bureau announced that the Anglo-French mission of financiers to the United States for the improvement of the foreign exchange situation, had left England.

The British representatives on the commission are: Lord Chief Justice Sir John Simon; Sir Edward Hopkins, member of parliament, and chairman of the London City and Midland bank; Sir Henry Robinson Smith, president of the National Bank of Turkey; and B. F. Blackett.

The French delegates are: Messrs. Octave Hombert and Ernest Mallet, both influential Paris bankers.

Meritor Rheumatism Powders.

The unusually large sale of this remedy is the best evidence we could offer you to prove its merit. It is made of effective ingredients, and is guaranteed to give permanent relief for rheumatism. We will gladly show you the formula explain its merits to you. Price 50c. Madison Drug Company Sole Agents. Advertisement.

Keep your money in circulation by handing us that dollar you owe us. If

CHECK TEUTONS
NEAR RIGA

Holding Enemy Temporarily In Galicia.

UNABLE TO CROSS DWINA

Russians Are Making a Strong Stand on the Banks of the Sereth Against the Austrians For the Present—Artillery Duels on West Front.

London, Sept. 6.—The German and Austrian advance in the east, for the moment, at least, is being held up by the Russians.

While the Germans, according to their own claim, as well as to the admission of the Russian war office, succeeded in capturing the bridgehead at Friedrichstadt on Thursday, they have not yet been able to cross the Dwina to attack the town itself and to cut the rail communications between Riga and Dwinsk.

Between Grodno and the region east of Hielostock there seems to have been little change though further to the south the Germans, after very severe fighting, have succeeded in capturing the Bridgehead on the Jasloida at Kartuski-Beres, where they were held up for some time, and are now drawing nearer to Pinsk. Slightly to the north of this region the German advanced guards are within about twenty miles of Slonim, an important railway point on the railway which runs from Hielostock to Pinsk.

In the region east of Grodno the Russians have been fighting desperate rear guard battles, which have so effectively checked the Germans that practically the entire force which held this salient have been able to withdraw safely. Petrograd dispatches say that even after the town of Grodno was evacuated cavalry detachments re-entered the city and fought with such telling effect that they were able to carry away a number of German machine guns and 150 prisoners. Berlin says that the number of prisoners taken in this region has been increased to 3,600.

In Galicia the Russians are making a strong stand on the banks of the Sereth and are temporarily holding the Austrians.

The word "artillery" continues to feature the French official war office statements. In the Argonne, in the forest of Apremont, on the Champagne front, and at several other places on the western theater, the French and Germans, according to reports, are busy cannonading. No consequential gain by either side is announced in the official statements. Sunday tell British gains on the Gallipoli peninsula "since the end of August." In the southern zone of the peninsula the situation is calm, the statement adds.

FIVE DEAD IN AUTO CRASH

Electric Car on Erie Railroad Strikes Auto With Fatal Results.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Five people were killed when an electric car of the Erie railroad, struck an auto near Industry, about fourteen miles south of the city. The dead are Miss Nellie S. Hayner, teacher at State Agriculture and Industrial school, Industry; Mrs. Edith Hayner Kintz, Washington, D. C., sister of Miss Hayner; Lewis J. Lawson, Spencerport, merchant, brother-in-law of Miss Hayner; and Stanley Miller, Waterloo, N. Y., a dealer in antique furniture.

Miss Hayner had been to her home in Spencerport to meet Saturday and in the afternoon her brother-in-law and the other members of the party were driving over to the school with her when the accident occurred.

FLOOD DAMAGE UNKNOWN

Territorial Troops Rescuing Victims and Caring For Homeless.

Rome, Sept. 6.—Owing to interruption of the railroad communications and congested telegraph the full extent of the damage done by the Bari floods is yet unknown. It is only preliminary reports that have been received.

The wounded are most numerous in the lower portions of the town which still is under water. The rescue work is rendered extremely difficult owing to the lack of pumps. Pumps are being sent to Bari from Tartano and Brindisi. Meanwhile the territorial troops are rescuing the occupants of the flooded houses and providing shelter for the homeless. The damage on the countryside is extensive, besides in Bari, in the neighborhood of Naples and especially in the towns and villages on the slopes of the Vesuvius where mud torrents devastated the field and vineyards and orchards.

Workmen Electrocutted.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 6.—William Hall, age forty-six, an employee of the power plant of the Indiana and Michigan Electric company at Berrien Springs, Mich., was killed when he fell into a mesh of high tension wires. More than 35,000 volts passed through his body, which was terribly burned.

Every Home Needs a Faithful Cough and Cold Remedy.

When seasons change and colds appear—when you first detect a cold after sitting next to one who has sneezed, then it is that a tried and tested remedy should be taken at once. I never wrote a testimonial before, but I know positively that for myself and family, Dr. King's New Discovery is the best cough remedy we ever used and we have tried them all. 50c and $1. adv

Good, Juicy Stenka Lackey & Todd, Phone 62.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE'S POWER

Test Will Be Made in Court Over Appointment.

Lexington, Ky. (Special): The question of whether a school trustee's recommendation should be adopted in the selection of teachers for that trustee's district, or is merely advisory, has arisen in the Athens school district in this country, and as the matter has no direct precedent in Kentucky it will be taken to the court of appeals for an authoritative ruling. William Burns, trustee of the Athens district, recommended that Misses Jessie Lee Tilton and Bessie Riddell be appointed to two of the positions as teachers in the Athens school. Mrs. Nannie G. Faulconer, superintendent of county schools, and the county board of education, favored the trustee's recommendation, and designated Misses Frances Scott, Katherine Taylor and Jane Young to be the assistants to Miss Folsom McGuire, principal of the school. Trustee Burns, upon learning of this, secured an injunction in the circuit court restraining the superintendent and board of education from employing any other persons than the two young women named by Burns in the positions to which he had recommended them.

WOMAN SUES HER BROTHER

Over $40,000 Alleged To Be Due Bourbon County Woman.

Mr. Sterling, Ky. (Special): Mrs. Robert G. Stoner, Bourbon county, has filed suit in the Montgomery circuit court against her brother, Col. A. W. Hamilton, of this county, alleging that he owes her about $40,000, her portion of sale of land made years ago, or which she claims no settlement. She is claiming $5,600 Mrs. Stoner claims she paid out for her brother and other different amounts. The parties are prominent and the suit has created a sensation.

FIRES BULLET INTO BRAIN

Wife Was Attending Reception Given In Honor of Marshall.

Lexington, Ky. (Special): While his wife was attending a reception given in honor of Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall here, Dr. Robert M. Bryan, prominent veterinarian, fired a bullet into his brain and died a short time later.

Dr. Bryan was associated in business with Dr. W. E. Hoover, who is a cousin of the vice-president, and Mrs. Bryan was assisting in receiving at Dr. Hoover's home.

Trial Postponed.

Carlisle, Ky. (Special): The examining trial of Deputy County Clerk John A. Westfall, who shot and seriously wounded Leonard Howard, a prominent farmer of Miller station, has been postponed awaiting the outcome of Mr. Howard's wounds. Physicians attending Mr. Howard, state that his condition is as satisfactory as could be expected. Dr. Westfall has a splendid chance of recovery. He was for several days thought to be fatally injured.

Child Sent by Parcel Post.

Jackson, Ky. (Special): Little Maud Smith, three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Cella Smith, made a forty-mile journey through the mountains in all her finery to the bedside of her mother, who is ill here under the care of Uncle Sam, by parcel post.

City Officials Arrested.

Nashville, Tenn. (Special): Former city commissioner Lewis Andrews, former city treasurer Charles Myers and former city recorder W. L. Murray were arrested here on charges of grand larceny of municipal funds. Each is charged with stealing $25,000 of city money. The arrests were made after an alleged confession by former Assistant City Treasurer West.

Held For Shooting.

Brownsville, Ky. (Special): Aaron Dwyne, of Proctor's Cave, is in jail here in default of bail, charged with shooting at his neighbor, Jesse Higdonham, with intent to kill. Higdonham, it is alleged, was tearing down Doyle's fence, which provoked the shooting. Doyle will have a preliminary hearing before county judge Logan on Thursday.

Boy Loses Arm.

Perryville, Ky. (Special): William Libkens, a youth of twelve years, who resides with his parents in this county, fell from an apple tree, breaking his arm. Blood poisoning developed and he was taken to the Boyle county hospital, when it became necessary in order to save his life to amputate his arm from the shoulder.

Negro Is Held.

Mt. Sterling, Ky. (Special): Samuel Jackson, negro, arrested for the murder of Mary Williams, widow of an ex-convict, was held to circuit court without bond. He seemed unconcerned about his crime and calmly smoked cigarettes.

Diphtheria Reported.

Carlisle, Ky. (Special): Diphtheria is reported to have broken out in the Pleasant Valley section of Nicholas county, three cases of the disease having been reported. This is the first diphtheria in this county in several months.

Attention.

The quarterly adjustment of our mailing galleys will be made October 1st. Please see that any change in address either for city or elsewhere, is promptly made. Give the old as well as the new address. Papers cannot be forwarded. Therefore give this matter your attention.

Feed of all kinds delivered to any place in Richmond at lowest prices. Elmer Tate, Irvine St. Phone 793. 4-14

ALEXANDRE MILLERAND

French Minister of War Is Preparing For Winter Campaign.

Photo by American Press Association.

POLICE UNABLE TO LOCATE GODOWSKI

Noted Musician Is Thought to Have Been Killed.

New York, Sept. 6.—Not only are the family and friends of Leopold Godowski, the famous pianist completely baffled by his continued disappearance, but a score of detectives, working under Deputy Police Commissioner Guy Schulz, are puzzled as well.

The failure of the detectives to find any one who seems to have seen Godowski since he vanished after leaving a half-dressing establishment in Forty-third street at six o'clock on Wednesday evening, has strengthened the theory that the celebrated musician fell a victim of highwaymen, who robbed him of his money and jewels and probably did him bodily harm. The police have practically abandoned the belief that Godowski's disappearance was under an attack of amnesia or aphasia. They think that he is so well known in all parts of the city that some one would have recognized him if he wandered about in that state.

Scarcely a more thorough search of the city has been made for any one since the strange disappearance of Dorothy Arnold. The police have almost completely exhausted the possibility of finding Godowski in the battle fought between American soldiers, "The disappearance of Godowski," said Mr. Schulz, "is one of the most baffling mysteries of the kind we have had to deal with. It is exceedingly strange that a man who was so well known about the city could suddenly drop out of sight completely."

MEXICANS CEASE FIRING AT SOLDIERS ACROSS THE BORDER.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 6.—According to such information as reached here from the Brownsville region the battle fought between American soldiers, Texas rangers and American possemen, on one side of the river, and Mexicans on the other, has not been resumed.

The Mexicans disappeared during the night, but scouting parties exchanged shots during the day with some of the Mexican bandits, who have been raiding on the Texas side. With the arrival at Brownsville of the fourth infantry from Texas City, Colonel Robert L. Bullard moved the headquarters of the Twenty-sixth Infantry into the interior to Harlingen, twenty-six miles from Brownsville, and close to the scene of the battle, across the international line. American officials here have received word from officials at Brownsville that they have positive evidence that the Carranza soldiers have fired from Mexico upon United States army airplanes, even if as Carranza commanders claim, Carranza troops were not guilty of firing across the border at the Americans.

Buys the Seymour Democrat.

Seymour, Ind., Sept. 6.—The Seymour Democrat has been sold by J. Newt Gibson to S. Paul Poynter of Sullivan and L. C. Gifford of Russia, who have assumed charge. The consideration was not announced. The company will be incorporated for $10,000. Both daily and weekly issues will be continued.

Pope Withholds Details.

Rome, Sept. 6.—The Vatican, while confirming that it has received a cable report from Cardinal Gibbons of his latter visit to President Wilson in behalf of early peace, withheld all details concerning this report which was stated to be of a confidential nature.

Germans Pasha Vanishes.

Rome, Sept. 6.—Germans Pasha, who had fallen into disgrace owing to the failure of the invasion of Egypt, and had been transferred to Baghdad, has mysteriously disappeared.

People Say To Us

"I cannot eat this or that food, it does not agree with me." Our advice to all of them is to take a Rexall Dyspepsia Tablet before and after each meal. 25c. box.

Henry L. Perry.

Is dollars to doughnuts what you will forget to hand us "Our Dollar" when you come to town.

Additional Personals on Page 3

Personal

Phone 638 or 659 for all personal items.

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Barnes, spent Wednesday at Crab Orchard.

Mrs. F. M. Stivers and children are visiting at Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Nick White spent a few days with her sister near Irvine last week.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Vaught, spent the week-end in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Anna Walton and Miss Lucile Walton, have returned from Stanford.

Miss Hester Covington leaves this week for Lexington, to resume her teaching.

Mrs. Sallie Cornelison is at home after a visit to friends in North Middletown.

Mrs. B. E. Belue, of Richmond, spent Wednesday in this city.—Winchester Sun.

Mrs. Ida Peyton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Lakes, in Lexington this week.

Little Miss Nancy Gertrude Phelps is the guest of little Miss Elizabeth Phelps, at Red House.

T. S. Burnam has returned to his home after a visit to Mr. Vincent Barlett.—Anderson News.

Mr. T. W. Noland, of Kansas, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Deatherage, and other relatives.

Prof. G. D. Smith and family have returned from an extended trip through Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Mrs. Neale Bennett and daughter, Miss Laura Isabel, have returned from a visit to Mrs. Helburn, in Middleboro.

Miss Springer has returned to Richmond, and taken charge of the music department, at Caldwell High School.

Mr. George Burnam, of New Orleans, has been the guest of his parents, Judge and Mrs. A. R. Burnam.

Mrs. H. G. Lee and children are visiting the families of Messrs. James Turner and H. B. Lee in Lancaster.

Mrs. Z. T. Rice and children after spending two months in Colorado Springs, Colorado, have returned home.

Mr. Delbert Azbill, of Richmond, visited relatives and attended the dances here the latter part of last week.—London Echo.

Mrs. Stanton B. Hume accompanied her son, Mr. Stanton Hume, to Asheville, N. C., returning the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Clinecock, of Huntington, W. Va., have returned to their home after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Neale Bennett.

Mr. A. E. Barnes and family have returned to their home in Somerset, after a two weeks' visit to Madison county relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clark and son, Master William, of Cincinnati, have been visiting relatives and friends in this city and county.

Miss Mary Q. Covington, left Friday for Louisville, in regard to her school work, but will not begin to teach for several weeks.

Mr. John Keller, of Mt. Sterling, came over last week and attended the funeral of his old associate, Mr. W. R. Powell, at Nicholasville, yesterday.

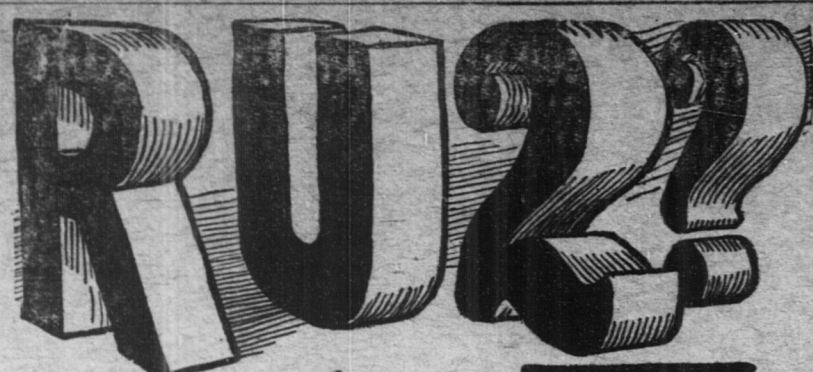

Mr. Gordon Barnes who has been employed this summer on the Anti-tuberculosis car arrived home, and is now with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Barnes.

Mrs. B. G. Nunneley and children, of Richmond, arrived Monday for a short visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Apperson.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

Dr. W. G. White, of the Richmond Clinix, was in the city last night on his way to the Louisville Convention, to which he is a delegate.—Stanford Journal.

Mrs. Thomas Rutherford and daughter, Mrs. J. J. Bibb, of Arrowsmith, Ill., and Mrs. James Davis and children, of this city, visited the family of Mr. James Long, in the country last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dudley and three children,

The Careful Man is putting some money into the Bank every day because he is preparing for the future. Some day he will see a good business opportunity and have the money to take advantage of it R. U. 2?

SAM WHITE HAD DARK SKIN. HE LIVED IN GEORGIA. HE COULDN'T WRITE. HE SAW IN THE PAPER A PICTURE "AD" OF A BURGULAR. HE GOT SCARED. HE ASKED WHICH BANK HAD ITS NAME UNDER THE PICTURE. HE PUT HIS "FO" DOLLARS IN THAT BANK. HE "TOOK A NOTION" TO MAKE IT A HUNDRED DOLLARS, THEN TWO, THREE, FOUR, FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS—THEN A THOUSAND. SAM BANKED MONEY EVERY WEEK UNTIL HE GOT THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS! WHENEVER HE WENT INTO THE BANK, HE WOULD ASK: "AINT AH GOT MO' MONEY?" ANY CULLUD MAN IN DIS TOWN? HE WAS PROUD. SAM NOW OWNS A FARM. CAN'T YOU SAVE?

BANK WITH US.

STATE BANK & TRUST COMPANY
RICHMOND, KENTUCKY

PERSONALS

Miss Katherine Hockensmith, an experienced trimmer of Cincinnati, has arrived to take charge of K. V. Schmidt's trimming department.

Mrs. W. B. Black and children, of Barbourville, are guests in the family of Mr. Samuel Black, at Forest Grove.

Mr. J. B. Dozier, of Jefferson, Ohio, formerly of Red House, is visiting friends and relatives here. He is in fine health and says that the Madison county citizens at that place and Pond Creek nearby, are doing well. Mr. Dozier will be with us for some weeks.

Mr. J. E. Jones, formerly of Red House, but now of Mancos, Col., is visiting his old home. He is looking well and his health is much improved. He has found the climate so beneficial to him that he has concluded to remove there permanently. We regret to lose Mr. Jones from our county.

Col. Wm. Mellon and wife, of College Hill, have recently returned from a three months visit to relatives in California. While there they visited the great expositions with which they were delighted. They visited exclusively in California and other western points. Mr. Mellon's mother, Mrs. Louise Webber, resides in Kirkwood, California. She is hale and hearty for a few years.

B. F. Edwards, of College Hill, was here Sunday visiting relatives. Mrs. C. Marcum, Mrs. John W. Pullins, Mrs. C. Carroll, Miss Carrie Marcum and Mr. V. M. Gaines motored to Richmond Thursday of last week to spend the afternoon. — Irvine Sun.

Miss Eve B. Rice, of Atlanta, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fount Rice, at Terrill, this county.

Miss Jane V. Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fount Rice, will leave tomorrow to resume her studies at the Iowa State College, at Ames, Iowa. Miss Rice is taking a four year course in that institution.

Miss Anna Chenault is visiting relatives and friends at Maysville.

Miss Lee Prather, of Lexington, is the pleasant guest of relatives and friends in this city.

Prof. Alex Bowles, band leader of Howe's Great London Shows, returned to Richmond, last Sunday. Prof. Bowles was taken ill while at Alexander, Minn., and was confined to his bed during the greater part of July. He later joined the show, but was forced to resign on account of illness. He had the members of the saw dust trail "good bye" at Spring Green, Wis., and came to Richmond, where he still remains on the sick list, although greatly improved.

Prof. and Mr. A. C. Marshall have returned from a two weeks visit to points in Ohio and West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bonny, of Waco, are rejoicing over the arrival of a seven pound son, who was born Sunday, August 21. He has been christened Charles Jr.

Miss Margaret Yates leaves today for Warrenton, Georgia, where she has accepted a position to teach in the Warrenton High School.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Freeman, who went to Great Falls, Minn., a few months ago to make it their home, have returned and will again take their residence in this county, probably on their farm near Union. They say Kentucky is good enough for them.

The relatives and friends from a distance attended the funeral of W. R. Powell here Tuesday. Mrs. Dave Friedman, Mrs. J. B. Hagris and daughters, Dr. Brown Oldham and daughter, Bowen Lackey, R. O. Lackey, Miss Mattie Powell and brother, Elmer Deatherage, Mrs. Mary Powell, Miss Fannie Powell, Noland Powell, Neal Powell, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Eads, Mr. and Mrs. T. Powell, College Hill; Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, John Keller, Mr. Sterling Quinn Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilson and daughter, Waco; Edward Powell and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John McMeekin, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Wilds, Lexington; Mrs. W. T. Baskett, Louisville; Virgil Wilds, Mrs. E. J. Poore, Mrs. Edward Ballard, Stanford; Mrs. A. C. Miles and daughter, Mr. J. H. Dean, Mrs. Chas. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dickerson, Lancaster; Logan Ison and sister, Bryansville.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, I am, Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that may be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE. Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 8th day of December, A. D. 1915.

Mrs. Harry A. Miller, of Atlanta, Ill., and Mr. Kennedy Rogers, of Hopedale, Ill., are visiting friends and relatives in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Flora, of Cincinnati and Glen Cove Springs, Fla., with a friend, Mrs. Porter, of Cincinnati, motored to this city on a business trip last Friday and were present callers at the Climax office.

Mr. and Mrs. Grass, of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Chenault, and Mr. Ernest Cardwell, of Shelbyville, attended the funeral of little Courtney Galbraith in this city Monday.

Mr. Speed Smith Tevis, Seattle, Wash., is expected in Richmond in a few days to attend the private preparatory school of Prof. W. E. Gwynne in Burnamwood.

Mrs. Sam Ballard, of Richmond, was the guest of Irvine relatives the past week. — Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Estes, of College Hill, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Noland. — Misses Fannie Frazier and Bonnie Rice, of Wisenawtown, visited Misses Viola and Essie Hunt, Saturday and Sunday. — Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Riddell, of Panola, and Mrs. Lyman Riddell, of Rice Station, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Trussell, Sunday. — Prof. Frank Edwards, a former Estill citizen, who has been living in Oklahoma City for the past twelve years, is here on a visit to relatives. — Messrs. James West and Rodney White have returned from the San Francisco exposition. They spent something over two months, and their trip included many points of interest in the West. They visited several former Estill county people in Santa Ana, Calif. — L. A. West, A. L. Hume, Mrs. R. P. Wagers, Stone Todd and James Wilburn. — Estill Tribune.

Prof. I. N. Booth, of Eastern Kentucky Normal School, attended the Teacher's Institute here last week. Prof. Booth is one of Kentucky's prominent educators and one of the most genial of men. A number of Owen county teachers have been instructed by him, and many more will avail themselves of this opportunity. — Owen Herald.

Mrs. Mesdames C. F. Tharp and Thos. Trussell visited their sister, Mrs. Ada Riddell, of Panola Sunday. — Master Henry Maurice Tharp, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hubbard, of Waco this week. — Mrs. W. H. Azbill returned Saturday from Richmond and Red House where she visited her daughters, Mesdames O. J. Young and Johnnie Reeves. — Winston (Cor.) Estill Tribune.

Miss Una Gabbard, of Berea has been visiting friends at Red House. — Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shugars and little son, W. K. Jr., of Stanford, were the guests of the Misses Shugars, in this city Sunday. — Mr. and Mrs. Tevis Hugueley and little son, of Danville, were the guests of the family of Mr. George Myers, Sunday, in Burnamwood. — Mr. John John Horne, who is superintending the work on the court house at Lancaster, came up Saturday and paid his old friends in this city a visit. — Mr. Chas. Powell and Miss Emma Dunaway, of Estill county, were married at the court house in this city, Tuesday morning, Rev. C. K. Marshall performing the ceremony in his usual charming manner. — Mr. Thompson Burnam and son, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Burnam, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mr. Curtis Burnam, Miss Lucie Burnam, Miss Elizabeth Burnam, Mr. William Burnam, Mrs. James Shackelford, Mrs. W. R. Shackelford, Mrs. D. M. Poyntz, Mrs. Warfield Bennett, Miss Katherine Poyntz and Miss Lucie Crooke attended the funeral of Mrs. Martha B. Gay in Winchester last Wednesday afternoon. — Please hand us OUR dollar.

Forty Million Acres

An area of fully 40,000,000 acres was plowed in August for the sowing of the winter wheat crop. Last year's acreage, which has just been harvested, was 40,199,000 acres, and the disposition is to expand the production on account of the sustained prices and profits of production. On August 1 the average price of wheat to producers was $1.06, or 10c above that of a year ago. At the current selling price wheat at the railway stations probably averages a little under $1 a bushel. — Wall Street Journal.

Health and Happiness Depend Upon Your Liver.

That sluggish liver with its sluggish flow of bile is what makes the world look so dark at times. Dr. King's New Life Pills go straight to the root of the difficulty by waking up the action of the liver and increasing the bile. Dr. King's New Life Pills cause the bowels to act more freely and drive away those "moody days." 25c a bottle. adv

Millinery Opening

See notice elsewhere of "St. Marie" Millinery Opening, Sept. 9, Glyndon Hotel.

DEATHS

Mrs. Henry Edginton died at her home at Mill Grove Tuesday night, after several weeks suffering with tuberculosis. She was 18 years of age. Reside her husband she leaves one little boy, 18 months old, and a number of relatives to mourn her loss. Burial took place Wednesday, at Gilead cemetery.

The friends in Madison county will be sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. M. E. Brown, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Buchanan, who formerly resided in this county. Mrs. Brown, died in Palmer Lake, Colorado, August 30.

Little Clark Hoskins, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hoskins, died at the home of his parents at White Hall, August 30. His death was due to flux, with which every member of the family has been afflicted. The remains were taken to Virginia for burial. The bereaved parents have the deepest sympathy of a wide circle of relatives and friends in their sad affliction.

Mrs. Martha B. Gay, one of the oldest and best beloved women of Winchester, died suddenly at her home in that city on Monday night, August 30th, while in conversation with her daughter, Mrs. James R. Burnam, of this city. Deceased was 76 years of age, highly cultured and of charming personality. She was a typical Southern lady—one who loved her friends and endeavored to brighten the pathway of those for whom the road of life was rugged and full of thorns. Her death comes as a severe shock to her relatives and numerous friends, and she will be sadly missed in the community in which she lived. She was the widow of the late David Allen Gay, and her son Robert Gay, preceded her to the grave some months ago. She is survived by two children, Mrs. James R. Burnam, of this city, and Mr. J. Warwick Gay, of Winchester. Funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. W. M. Cumming, the pastor, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Winchester cemetery, covered with the choicest of flowers.

Last Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock, the spirit of Mrs. N. B. Coy, of Kirksville took its flight and wafted its way back to the God who gave it.

Mrs. Coy had been in ill health for several years. She grew suddenly worse on Sunday and although her suffering was intense, she died peacefully.

Before her marriage, she was Miss Sarah Sanders, of Garrard county. She leaves a devoted husband, one daughter, Miss Iva Coy, and four sons, Messrs. J. F. C. C., J. M., and N. B. Coy, Jr., all of whom were at her bedside when she came. She is also survived by an aged father, one brother, Mr. Jesse Sanders, of Garrard county, and one sister, Mrs. Pearce, of Louisville. Kind, sympathetic, humble, and Christlike. These were the characteristics that shone out so conspicuously in her life.

She was a devout member of the Christian Church and was devoted to her service to the Master. Mrs. Coy was a loving wife and mother. Her home was her castle and her greatest pleasure was in making this an ideal place for her loved ones.

Funeral services were conducted at her late residence Saturday at 10 A. M., by the Rev. D. M. Walker, of the Stanford Christian Church and thence her burial in the Richmond Cemetery.

After the last prayer at the grave by the Rev. E. B. Barnes was ended, the family and large concourse of friends moved sadly away, leaving the remains of Mrs. Coy under a blanket of flowers. She is now at rest—not dead, she only sleepeth.

Little Courtney, aged twenty-two months, the bright little daughter of Mrs. Erle Galbraith, of Little Rock, Arkansas, died at the Pattie A. Clay infirmary in this city, Sunday evening about 7 o'clock. Just recently her mother came to this city for a visit to relatives and friends, her first visit to her native State in nine years. While at the home of her brother, Judge John C. Chenault, on North street, her babe became stricken with flux last week and was removed to the Pattie A. Clay infirmary, dying as stated. Brief funeral services were held Monday afternoon, Rev. J. R. Reynolds, pastor of the Baptist church conducting the service, after which the little casket laden with flowers was deposited in the Richmond Cemetery. Mrs. Galbraith, prior to her marriage, was Miss Erle Chenault, of this city. She is a sister of Judge John C. Chenault and Hon. D. M. Chenault, of Richmond, and Mr. W. T. Chenault, of Shelbyville. To the bereaved and grief-stricken mother, the sympathy of the entire community goes out to her.

Mrs. Amos Richardson died at her home on Fifth street in this city, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, after an illness extending over a year. While the deceased had been in declining health, yet she never complained and was able to go about her home until about three hours before she died. Her death was as peaceful as the setting sun and she met the insatiable anchor as she would welcome a newly made friend. Before her marriage, Mrs. Richardson was Miss Lucie B. Jones. She was born in Estill county, in 1848, but spent the greater portion of her life in Madison county. Her husband, Amos Richardson, died about nine years ago. She was a devoted member of the M. E. Church, South, and a woman possessing rare and noble traits of character. She was kind and considerate of others, and greatly endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. In her domestic life she was the center of a good woman and her children of a kind, loving mother. She is survived by two daughters and one son. They are Mrs. Ernest Hill, and Miss Kate Richardson, of Hamilton, Ohio; also three brothers and one sister, Messrs Sam and Walter Jones, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. A. D. Jones, of Lamont, Oklahoma, and Mrs. W. Lyon, of Augusta, Kansas. The funeral was held on Monday and the remains laid to rest in the Richmond Cemetery, beneath a bower of choicest flowers—a token of esteem of friends and loved ones.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our bereavement in the loss of our sister and mother, Mrs. Amos Richardson. Also to the Rev. E. B. Barnes, for his words of comfort and consolation and to the choir and all who contributed floral designs which were so much appreciated.

Children and Sister.

For Sale.

A beautiful, gentle pony. Call at Hotel Glyndon. 361f

Kentucky Ranks Third.

Kentucky again ranked third among the States in internal revenue collections according to the preliminary report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The total for the State was $53,053,848.

Richmond Horses At Somerset.

"Kentucky's Ideal," the 3-year-old Bourbon King colt owned by Walter C. Park, of this county, defeated all comers in the gelded and harness classes at the Somerset fair during the past week. All his classes contained as many as seven or eight entries, including some of the greatest show horses in the State, yet all bowed to this young horse until he was graduated and out of the way. This colt was exhibited at Mt. Sterling, Winchester and Stanford, where he was always in the money and gained much favor with leading horsemen. At Brodhead against all the aged horses, he repeated the same performance as at Somerset. His speed, style and action are wonderful and he must be a great colt to be able to handle horses in all ages in all sexes. "Mary Booth," the well known road mare, also owned by Mr. Park, won all five roadster classes at Somerset, including the sweepstakes, said to be one of the greatest ever held in the state. In each instance she had to defeat seven or eight entries of statewide reputation. She also repeated these winnings at Berea, Nicholasville and Brodhead, and today she is pronounced one of the best roadsters in the State.

Keep your money in circulation by handing us that dollar you owe us. If Court Day.

Monday was County Court Day and a large crowd was in town—the largest in months. There were about 6,000 head of cattle on the market, possibly the greatest number ever before on this market. There were all classes, kinds and conditions, and every variety found a ready market at good prices. Prices ranged from $6 to $8 per hundred, and a few extra good bunches went higher than the latter figure. Feeders were in great demand and hundreds of head changed hands at figures from $6.50 to $7.25 a hundred. There were a large number of sheep on the market, and these found a ready sale at good prices. Horses and mules were here in plenty, but the market was somewhat dull.

The mule market was at a very low ebb and there was little trading, farmers and owners refusing to sell at the prices offered. However, taken as a whole, the market was quite active and it was one of the biggest Court Day's ever witnessed in Richmond.

PERUNA
A STANDARD FAMILY REMEDY

For over forty years it has been used as A TONIC AND STOMACH REMEDY. Peruna aids the appetite and gives new life to digestion.

Correspondence

WHITE HALL.

Mrs. Jake White delightfully entertained a number of ladies Thursday. — Miss Maggie Bowling has returned to her home at London, Ky. after a visit with her sister, Zephia Bowling. — Mr. Sam Q. Royce has gone to New Orleans for a few weeks stay. — The Baptists closed a very successful and enjoyable meeting here last Sunday, with eighteen confessions. — Mrs. Sanford Oldham, entertained a number of ladies Friday in honor of Mrs. W. S. McCuddy's visitors. — Mr. Ed. P. Millon spent Monday with Mr. S. C. Scomb on the Barnes Mill pipe. — Diphtheria has broken out in the Science Hill school. — Mrs. Roscoe Whitlock is visiting in Clark county. — Miss Edith Parker left last Monday, for Midway, where she will attend school. — Mr. and Mrs. George Phelps have returned from a delightful trip to the Pacific coast. — Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Parke, went to Kirksville, last Saturday and Sunday to hear Rev. Walker, of Stanford, who is holding a protracted meeting at the Christian church. — Rev. Medinger will fill his regular appointment at the Mt. Pleasant church Sunday morning and evening.

The Highest Possible Award
The Grand Prize for STAR Tobacco

LEADING BRAND OF THE WORLD

The Only Chewing Tobacco
That Ever Won
An International Exposition
Grand Prize

THE one supreme chewing tobacco at the San Francisco Exposition was STAR. So decided the International Jury of Award, selected from all parts of the world.

As the result of that decision, STAR received The Grand Prize—the highest award that the International Jury could give.

The same "superior quality" that won the Grand Prize for STAR, had won for it the highest regard of chewers for half a century.

STAR'S extra quality of mellow chewing leaf, STAR'S absolute cleanliness of manufacture, STAR'S full "one pound to the plug" weight, and reasonable price, long ago made it the world's largest selling brand of plug chewing tobacco.

10c Cuts
16 oz. Plugs

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

of Mrs. Thos. Lowry. — Mr. C. W. Bush left Monday to resume his study at the Dental College in Louisville. — Mr. Borton Farris, State Bank Examiner, was in Waco Wednesday. — The weather man has surely made a mistake, he evidently thinks this is November instead of August judging from the kind of weather we are having. — Mrs. Joe Rogers and Mrs. Frank Rogers of Independence, Mo., are visiting Mrs. C. L. Searcy.

VALLEY VIEW.

Mrs. Beverly Morgan and children of Illinois, have returned home after a two weeks visit to her father, John Howe. — Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Stapp and Miss Nellie Hopkins are recovering from an attack of ptomaine poisoning. — Mrs. L. O. Chavely fell Thursday and is suffering from a broken arm. The arm was broken above the elbow. It was set by Drs. Bailey and Millon. — Claude Brookshire, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brookshire, of this place, was instantly killed Saturday night while attempting to board a moving train in Lexington. His remains were taken to Winchester and interred in the cemetery there Monday. — A. B. Howard was in Lexington Monday on business. — Misses Ethel and Frances Whorton left Saturday for Waco where the latter will enter the high school there. — Matt Hacker, of Louisville, visited his family here from Saturday until Monday. — The schools observed Labor Day Monday. — Wilbert Stapp, Clay Howe and others attended Richmond Court. — Miss Gwendoline Stapp visited her cousin, Miss Opal Stapp, in Lexington, from Friday until Monday.

See us that $.

WACO.

Mr. R. L. Penn sold his farm near Pine Grove Church to Mr. Shearer of this county. — C. L. Searcy has just gotten a new seven passenger Studebaker touring car. — Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stone are the proud parents of a twelve pound boy, who arrived Wednesday night. — Misses Katie and Eliza Jones of Winchester have been the guests of Miss Carrie Thomas. — Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jessie and children of Latonia have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Thorpe and other relatives. — Miss Hattie Hawkins, Mr. Eugene Miller, Miss Katherine Covington and Mr. G. P. Bush rode up to Irvine and spent the day, Friday. — Mrs. Vandy Taylor entertained at dinner Thursday in honor of Mrs. Thos. Lowry. — Mr. C. W. Bush left Monday to resume his study at the Dental College in Louisville. — Mr. Borton Farris, State Bank Examiner, was in Waco Wednesday. — The weather man has surely made a mistake, he evidently thinks this is November instead of August judging from the kind of weather we are having. — Mrs. Joe Rogers and Mrs. Frank Rogers of Independence, Mo., are visiting Mrs. C. L. Searcy.

of Mrs. Thos. Lowry. — Mr. C. W. Bush left Monday to resume his study at the Dental College in Louisville. — Mr. Borton Farris, State Bank Examiner, was in Waco Wednesday. — The weather man has surely made a mistake, he evidently thinks this is November instead of August judging from the kind of weather we are having. — Mrs. Joe Rogers and Mrs. Frank Rogers of Independence, Mo., are visiting Mrs. C. L. Searcy.

Mrs. Beverly Morgan and children of Illinois, have returned home after a two weeks visit to her father, John Howe. — Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Stapp and Miss Nellie Hopkins are recovering from an attack of ptomaine poisoning. — Mrs. L. O. Chavely fell Thursday and is suffering from a broken arm. The arm was broken above the elbow. It was set by Drs. Bailey and Millon. — Claude Brookshire, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brookshire, of this place, was instantly killed Saturday night while attempting to board a moving train in Lexington. His remains were taken to Winchester and interred in the cemetery there Monday. — A. B. Howard was in Lexington Monday on business. — Misses Ethel and Frances Whorton left Saturday for Waco where the latter will enter the high school there. — Matt Hacker, of Louisville, visited his family here from Saturday until Monday. — The schools observed Labor Day Monday. — Wilbert Stapp, Clay Howe and others attended Richmond Court. — Miss Gwendoline Stapp visited her cousin, Miss Opal Stapp, in Lexington, from Friday until Monday.

See us that $.

SILVER CREEK.

Mrs. C. E. Gaines and little son, Charles Edward, returned home Friday after a visit with relatives in Lawrenceburg. — Miss Madrus Farris attended the Stanford Fair and was the guest of Mrs. Louise Walker, returned home by the way of Harrodsburg for a few days visit. — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turner motored to Lebanon last week to be with his sister a few days. — Mr. W. C. West was with his parents at Speedwell last week. — Misses Ellen Powers, of Richmond and Kathleen Reagen, of Lexington, were with E. J. Fowers and family, Thursday. — Miss Clara Gibson, of Lexington, spent some time with her mother, Mrs. F. M. Gibson. — Miss Tommie West, of Speedwell, was with her brother, W. C. West and family. — Mr. Joe Karr, Viper, Ky., spent the week-end with his cousin, Miss Lucy Grizzard, at Sunnyside. — Mr. Armour Hile purchased a five passenger Ford and left with his brother, Owen Hile, and Mrs. Bettie Park, for Simpsonville, to join his wife, who has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Quisenberry. — Master William and Kuisen Adams, of Berea, were with their cousin, Paris Adams last week.

RED HOUSE.

Mr. Charley Dozier spent last week with relatives at Lexington. — Miss Callie Edwards, of Quick Sand, was the guest of Mrs. T. J. Marshall, last Thursday. — Mrs. Hamm, of Kirksville, is the guest of her daughters, Mesdames John Christopher and Robt. Griggs. — Mr. Harmon Newby and family, of Newby, spent Sunday with Mr. J. B. Parke and family. — Mrs. Horace Dozier was the week-end guest of her sisters, Mesdames Lee Abner and Jonah Parke, at Union. — Miss Grace Reid was the guest of her uncle, Mr. Malcolm Reid, near Lexington last week. — Mr. Arvil Reid, who has been threatened with fever, is reported to be some better. — Mrs. Thompson and children, of Louisville, returned home last Thursday after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stivers. Mrs. Stivers accompanied them. — Master Paul Parke visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Parke, at Winchester, Friday and Saturday. — Mrs. Clay Embry, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Pike Dienham, at Bybee. — Mr. Estes, wife and sons, visited Mrs. Estes parents, Mr. Noland and wife, Saturday and Sunday.

For Sale Privately.

A nice home on Woodland avenue, modern built and all modern improvements, bath room, electric light etc. Has eight or ten rooms, buggy house and stable, room for horse and cow. All in a very desirable home. Apply to S. Neville Moberly or N. B. Deatherage 12-1f Greatly Reduced Prices on Flaxons, Lace Cloths, Dress Linens, Retines and all Summer Goods.

With each dollar purchase we give one hundred votes for your favorite in the PERRY PONY CONTEST. Trade with us and get Coupons.

Jno. R. Gibson & Co.

ALHAMBRA

Where The Best People Go
OPEN 1:30 TO 5
6 TO 10:30

Please hand us OUR dollar.

See Breck & Evans for Tonsorial Insurance.

Pure Country Sorghum at Lackey & Todd's.

Give Elmer Tate a call for anything in his line. Phone 793.

HUALING of all kinds. Spurlin's Livery Stable, 3rd & Irvine. Phone 108.

Before buying a typewriter see the Victor. Its the best.

Drive in and hitch your horse with Elmer Tate. One price and courteous treatment to all—Irving street.

Can place $4,000 for you on first-class mortgage notes. No names given out. Call at this office.

Lost Cameo pin with dark spot on one side. Suitable reward for its return to this office.

Lost Sows. Two Duroc Jersey sows, weight about 175 pounds, just weaned pigs, strayed from vacant lot on Tates Creek pike. Reward for information.

For Rent. Rooms for storage for rent down town. Mrs. J. B. Stouffer, phone 274.

Automobile for Hire. Will take you anywhere at any time. Clifton Weaver, phone 657.

For Sale. Fifty tons good clover and timothy hay. H. D. Rayburn, R. D. 2.

For Sale. A first class dwelling house on West Main street. Inquire at this office.

For Sale. Two good residence lots in the Shackelford addition.

Rooms for Rent. Collins Street, No. 234. Miss Belle March.

Hampshiredown Buck Lambs. I have for sale some very good Hampshiredown Buck Lambs.

For Rent. Two rooms suitable for light house-keeping. Apply 206 Third street, Phone 787.

For Rent. Nice four room cottage on Fourth st. Also for sale a gentle family horse. Apply to Mrs. P. Phelps, Richmond, Ky., R. D. 4, Box 75.

For Rent. Dwelling house on Broadway, 7 rooms, kitchen, bath, sink in kitchen, coal house, barn and barn lot, front and back yard, all in good condition, electric lights and gas. Possession given Oct. 1.

Wanted To Buy. Five acres of land within the school limits of the Richmond High School. Must be on good pike and contain suitable building site.

Special Notice. Notice is hereby given to all persons paying on Singer Sewing Machines to discontinue paying to A. Donelson by cash, check or in any other way. Payments paid to him after this date will not be recognized by the Company. Mr. Donelson no longer represents us.

A Wonderful Antiseptic. Germs and infection aggravate ailments and retard healing. Stop that infection at once. Kill the germs and get rid of the poisons. For this purpose a single application of Sloan's Liniment not only kills the pain but destroys the germs. This neutralizes infection and gives nature assistance by overcoming congestion and gives a chance for the free and normal flow of the blood. Sloan's Liniment is an emergency doctor and should be kept constantly on hand. 25c. 50c. The $1 size contains six times as much as the 25c size.

For Rent. We wish to rent our house, the Ellis house, for the year 1916, situated on Second street, Richmond, Ky. Convenient for boarders. New business part of city. Will be glad to show the house to anyone desiring to rent.

Our Advice Is: When you feel out of sorts from constipation, let us say that if you do not relieve you, see a physician, because no other home remedy will. Sold only by us, 10 cents.

Little Folks Shop. Spring and Summer Display of Children's and Infants' Ready-to-wear.

Beautiful Line of Stamping Patterns.

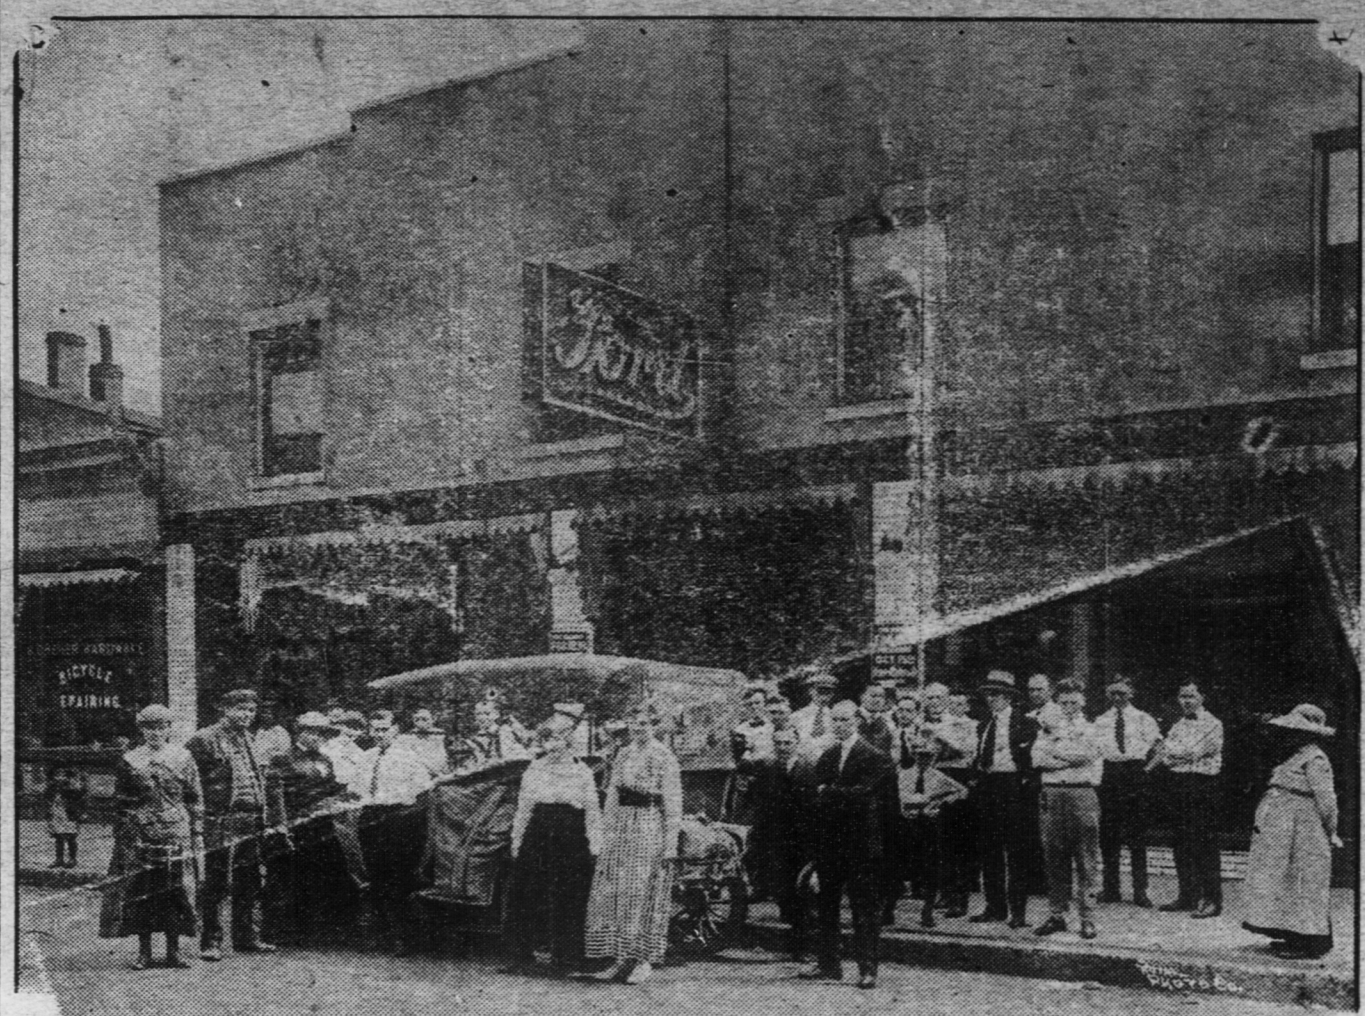

Miss Laura Bright. 9 to 12 A. M.—Hours—2 to 4 P. M. Phone 210 Lancaster Ave.

TODAY
Last Episode of "Who Pays" in 3 parts. Also "THE WEB OF CRIME" in 2 parts and Constance Talmage in "SPADES ARE TRUMPS"

THURSDAY—Lillian Walker in
"Dimples and the Auto Salesman"
Vitagraph presents Walley Van and Nitre Frazer in a 5-part special feature entitled "Love, Snow and Ice"

FRIDAY—Wm. Fox presents the celebrated actress, BETTY NANSEN assisted by Jean Sothorn and Stewart Holmes in
"Should a Mother Tell"
You can imagine what an interesting photoplay this is. Betty Nansen is a favorite of all stars and in this subject she will portray some of her most wonderful acting. Be sure and see this production

COMING SEPT. 13
David Belasco presents his greatest success
"Niobe"
with Hazel Dawn. Sept. 17, Pauline Frederick in
"THE ETERNAL CITY" 8 Parts
COMING—"HYPOCRITES"

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg and daughter on arrival at the Ford Motor Co.'s Branch at Louisville. Read the interesting description of their trip on Page 5

It's our dollar and WE NEED IT

Descending and Ascending
While the Steamer Arabic went to the bottom Gum Arabic is going to the top. It sold for 30 cents a pound a few weeks ago and now the druggists want a dollar for it.

Conducts Institute.
Prof. I. H. Booth, of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, conducted the Clark County Institute at Winchester last week. The meeting was largely attended by the pedagogues of the county, and the Institute was signally honored by having two Congressmen present, Hon. W. J. Fields, of the Ninth district, and Hon. J. Campbell Cantrell, of the Seventh district. Both made addresses.

New Depots Completed
The new freight and passenger depots are practically completed. They will be ready for use by the first of September.

Grading has been finished on the change in the Miller's Creek road near these depots. Crushed stone will be applied soon. The work is being done by the L. & N.—Irving Sun.

Watch the "Diamond From the Sky" Friday night, at Opera House.

Sets Tobacco Hearing
The Interstate Commerce Commission last week announced that on September 13th in New York Examiner Smith will conduct a hearing in the case of the American Tobacco Company vs. the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company. The testimony will be in the matter of the application filed by the railroad, which seeks authority to continue rates on leaf tobacco from Richmond, Ky., to Louisville, N. C.

Beautiful Tribute.
Out of respect to Mr. William R. Powell, who was buried at Nicholasville on Tuesday last week, every business house in that city was closed during the funeral service. The choir sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and Miss Bessie Chapman sang a solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Several persons from this city attended the last sad obsequies of this good citizen and splendid business man.

PUBLIC SALES THIS WEEK
Commissioner H. C. Rice, will sell 58 1-4 acres of the M. B. White farm Wednesday, Sept. 8.

Henry Rayburn will sell his farm of 234 acres Thursday, Sept. 9.

Louis Hardin will sell his Stock, Farming Implements and Household goods, Saturday, Sept. 11.

All of these sales are advertised in this week's issue of the Climax-Madisonian.

MARRIED
Miss Janie George, of this city, and Mr. Harry D. Bessard were married at the home of J. W. Alderson, in Indianapolis, last week.

Painful Accident.
Mr. Phil Moynahan, who has the contract to do the stone work on the Ellis New Home, met with a very painful accident on last Thursday. While workmen were engaged in finishing up the foundation, Mr. Moynahan, who is rather bulky, tipping the beam at about 200, climbed upon a scaffold about five feet from the ground. His weight, added to some rock lying on the scaffold, was entirely too much for that frail structure, and down they came, some of the rock badly bruising Mr. Moynahan's knee. The accident while painful is not serious and he hopes to be out again in a few days, much to the delight of his many friends.

Grading for Double Track
The work for grading for an additional track from the W. & I Junction to the new depots is going forward rapidly. The railroad company is apparently determined to make Irvine an important terminal. It is said on good authority that there will be a general influx of railroad people in the near future.

All kinds of Insurance can be obtained Brook & Evans.

Good Roads, Men.

A large delegation of good roads' enthusiasts from Estill, Lee, Wolfe, Powell, Owsley, Perry, Leslie, Letcher and Knott counties attended the Good Roads Convention at Jackson on Friday. It is proposed to build a pike from the Bluegrass line through the mountains, following the course of the Kentucky River to the Virginia line.

First-class Livery and Hauling of all kinds. SPURLIN'S Livery Stable, cor. 3rd and Irvine. Phone 108.

Surveyors At Work.
Engineer H. L. Leete and County Road Engineer James Winn have been busy surveying the pike from Irvine to Drowning Creek. They will prepare specifications for the rebuilding and modernizing of this road. It is confidently expected that the work will be pushed without unnecessary delay.

Will Open At Glasgow.
Glasgow, the county seat of Barren county, will have the honor of opening the Democratic State campaign this year. Glasgow is contiguous to more than a half dozen counties, and the opening of the campaign, which will take place about the middle of September, is sure to draw a record-breaking crowd. Barren county, which gave an adverse majority of 600 against Stanley for United States Senator in 1914, turned around and gave him 1,200 majority for the nomination for Governor.

Chickens Disappear.
It is said that persons living in and around Millersburg have lost hundreds of chickens during the past ten days. An epidemic worse than chicken cholera has hit the flocks in that neighborhood. The new malady is known as "precher-eat-us," and has completely wiped out many roosts. All last week the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, was in session in Millersburg, and over three hundred Methodist divines were in attendance. Is it any wonder the chicken roosts in that section are denuded?

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Taboo Order Ignored.
Despite of the taboo order issued by the City Commissioners of Lexington forbidding the motion picture, "The Hypocrites," to be exhibited in that city, the picture, nevertheless, was put on last Friday at the Colonial Theatre, and the house was packed with persons eager to see it. Mayor Cassidy and Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt were both in Cincinnati, and Chief Regan said he had no instructions from his chief to interfere with the show. A protest went up from the Women's Club, but all was in vain. We do know the nature of "The Hypocrites," but judging from its title and the protests made by the City Dads and others, it must be a "humdinger."

DYEING, cleaning ladies' and gents' suits of the most delicate fabrics. Will not rub or stain. Call at 333 North First street, phone 349.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Taboo Order Ignored.
Despite of the taboo order issued by the City Commissioners of Lexington forbidding the motion picture, "The Hypocrites," to be exhibited in that city, the picture, nevertheless, was put on last Friday at the Colonial Theatre, and the house was packed with persons eager to see it. Mayor Cassidy and Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt were both in Cincinnati, and Chief Regan said he had no instructions from his chief to interfere with the show. A protest went up from the Women's Club, but all was in vain. We do know the nature of "The Hypocrites," but judging from its title and the protests made by the City Dads and others, it must be a "humdinger."

DYEING, cleaning ladies' and gents' suits of the most delicate fabrics. Will not rub or stain. Call at 333 North First street, phone 349.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Taboo Order Ignored.
Despite of the taboo order issued by the City Commissioners of Lexington forbidding the motion picture, "The Hypocrites," to be exhibited in that city, the picture, nevertheless, was put on last Friday at the Colonial Theatre, and the house was packed with persons eager to see it. Mayor Cassidy and Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt were both in Cincinnati, and Chief Regan said he had no instructions from his chief to interfere with the show. A protest went up from the Women's Club, but all was in vain. We do know the nature of "The Hypocrites," but judging from its title and the protests made by the City Dads and others, it must be a "humdinger."

DYEING, cleaning ladies' and gents' suits of the most delicate fabrics. Will not rub or stain. Call at 333 North First street, phone 349.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Taboo Order Ignored.
Despite of the taboo order issued by the City Commissioners of Lexington forbidding the motion picture, "The Hypocrites," to be exhibited in that city, the picture, nevertheless, was put on last Friday at the Colonial Theatre, and the house was packed with persons eager to see it. Mayor Cassidy and Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt were both in Cincinnati, and Chief Regan said he had no instructions from his chief to interfere with the show. A protest went up from the Women's Club, but all was in vain. We do know the nature of "The Hypocrites," but judging from its title and the protests made by the City Dads and others, it must be a "humdinger."

DYEING, cleaning ladies' and gents' suits of the most delicate fabrics. Will not rub or stain. Call at 333 North First street, phone 349.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Taboo Order Ignored.
Despite of the taboo order issued by the City Commissioners of Lexington forbidding the motion picture, "The Hypocrites," to be exhibited in that city, the picture, nevertheless, was put on last Friday at the Colonial Theatre, and the house was packed with persons eager to see it. Mayor Cassidy and Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt were both in Cincinnati, and Chief Regan said he had no instructions from his chief to interfere with the show. A protest went up from the Women's Club, but all was in vain. We do know the nature of "The Hypocrites," but judging from its title and the protests made by the City Dads and others, it must be a "humdinger."

DYEING, cleaning ladies' and gents' suits of the most delicate fabrics. Will not rub or stain. Call at 333 North First street, phone 349.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Taboo Order Ignored.
Despite of the taboo order issued by the City Commissioners of Lexington forbidding the motion picture, "The Hypocrites," to be exhibited in that city, the picture, nevertheless, was put on last Friday at the Colonial Theatre, and the house was packed with persons eager to see it. Mayor Cassidy and Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt were both in Cincinnati, and Chief Regan said he had no instructions from his chief to interfere with the show. A protest went up from the Women's Club, but all was in vain. We do know the nature of "The Hypocrites," but judging from its title and the protests made by the City Dads and others, it must be a "humdinger."

DYEING, cleaning ladies' and gents' suits of the most delicate fabrics. Will not rub or stain. Call at 333 North First street, phone 349.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Taboo Order Ignored.
Despite of the taboo order issued by the City Commissioners of Lexington forbidding the motion picture, "The Hypocrites," to be exhibited in that city, the picture, nevertheless, was put on last Friday at the Colonial Theatre, and the house was packed with persons eager to see it. Mayor Cassidy and Commissioner of Public Safety Hunt were both in Cincinnati, and Chief Regan said he had no instructions from his chief to interfere with the show. A protest went up from the Women's Club, but all was in vain. We do know the nature of "The Hypocrites," but judging from its title and the protests made by the City Dads and others, it must be a "humdinger."

DYEING, cleaning ladies' and gents' suits of the most delicate fabrics. Will not rub or stain. Call at 333 North First street, phone 349.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's Phone 62.

Fall Opening.

The Fall Opening of our millinery department will take place Friday and Saturday, September 10 and 11. You are invited to call and see everything that's new in ladies' hats.

Display of Fall Hats.
We cordially invite the public to our display of Fall hats on Friday and Saturday, September 10 and 11. Miss Hockensmith will have charge of the trimming room.

For Rent.
You are cordially invited to the formal opening of MARCO & DOTGLAS on Friday, September 10. We will be prepared to exhibit pattern hats, showing the latest Fall styles.

Judge Tom Cardwell Dead.
Judge Thomas M. Cardwell, one of the most prominent citizens of Mercer county, died last week from pneumonia. He had been seriously ill for more than a year, but up to the time of his decline in health he was an active business man. He was in his seventieth year. In his boyhood days he enlisted in General John Morgan's command. He was Police Judge for twenty years and had also served as postmaster. He was United States Government Agent at White Rock, Utah, and during Governor Wilson's administration he was assistant State Fire Marshal. In 1887, with Major J. G. Pulliam, he established the Harrodsburg Sayings which afterward was merged into the Harrodsburg Herald. Noted for his charity and tenderness of heart, Judge Cardwell was unusually popular and much sorrow is felt over his death. He is survived by his wife and brother, W. K. Cardwell, and a sister, Mrs. John Lucas, of Osceola, Mo.

Church Notes
CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Rev. E. B. Barnes will preach next Sunday morning and evening. All evening services begin at 7 o'clock.

METHODIST
Conference of the Methodist church in session last week at Millersburg adjourned Monday at noon. Dr. B. C. Horton in charge of the church in this city for the past two years has been made Presiding Elder of the Shelbyville district and will reside in Lagrange. Much disappointment is expressed by our people as well as surprise that the doctor was not given to us for another two years, but at the same time much gratification is felt over his being made Presiding Elder. Rev. Minor Clark, of Wilmore, has been assigned to the church at this place.

Rev. W. M. Williams has been returned to College Hill. This is his fourth year there.

Presbyterian
The Presbyterian Sunday School Institute will be held in connection with the Presbytery at 8 o'clock, Sept. 28.

The Synod of Kentucky has been invited to meet in Richmond in October.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This service is followed immediately by the Women's Bible Class.

Dr. Telford will fill his pulpit next Sunday morning and evening as usual.

The Woman's Missionary Bureau will meet with Mrs. Thompson Burnam, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Byrd will preach at the Kingston Baptist Church, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to hear him.

Now that the churches of the city have resumed their regular services, we wish to again say the eleventh time that we print church items without discrimination. All notices of church or school affairs for which an admission is charged, collection taken or charged for in any way, will be run only at the regular advertising rates. See that your items reach us in time and we will be glad to serve you.

There has been no preaching at the Baptist church for six weeks past. Rev. Reynolds, the pastor, being in poor health, and spending the time at Crab Orchard and other health resorts. He returned home this week somewhat improved and hopes to be able to occupy his pulpit Sunday morning and evening.

In Society

At Mr. Will Henry's near Malory Springs a happy family reunion was held Sunday. Forty were present, a bountiful feast was spread out in the big yard under a large oak tree. Delicious meats, salads and such cakes as you see on Christmas and many other good things were served. Watermelons were smiling on the vines just across the yard fence. Many were eaten and enjoyed very much. We were also entertained by music and picture-taking, etc. Those present were Mr. Henry's three brothers and families, Mrs. Henry's father and mother and one brother, three uncles, one cousin and their families and Mrs. W. M. Hisle, son and two daughters. This was a day of pleasure and fun that will be long remembered by each of us. May this pleasant occasion occur again.

Miss Katherine White charmingly entertained her Bridge Club at her home on Oak street, Saturday morning. She is a splendid entertainer and her guests report a royal time.

Mr. William Smith was host of a river party on last Wednesday. The party was composed of Miss Martha Burke, of Carlinville, Ill., Miss Jane D. Stockton, Mrs. Alex. Denny and Mr. Overton Harber, of this city. A delicious supper was served at the Club House at Clays Ferry, after which the party motored to Richmond.

Miss Marie Louise Kellogg gave a delightful picture show party last week to a number of her friends in honor of Miss Montague Turner, of New York City, who is the pleasant guest of Miss Mollie Fife. Miss Kellogg also entertained a number of her young friends with an informal dance at the new garage on Third street Thursday night.

Miss Callie Miller Shackelford, was hostess of the Young Ladies Bridge on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Lancaster Ave.

Miss Hester Covington, entertained informally at Bridge on Thursday morning.

A marriage of unusual interest is that of Mr. Louis Todd, of this city, and Miss Porter, of Lebanon, Ky. The marriage was a quiet one, being performed at the Hotel Henry Watterson, in Louisville, Ky., Wednesday at high noon. The groom is one of our country business men, being associated in the firm of Rice & Arnold, for many years. He has many friends who extend heartfelt congratulations to himself and charming bride. They will be at home to their friends at the Colver Flats on Second street.

Miss Eugenia Hume was honored of a most beautiful party when Mrs. Harvey Chenault entertained on last Tuesday morning. In the spacious parlors of her country home four tables were placed and here from ten until twelve, five hundred was enjoyed. Miss Mary Louise Deatherage's score proved to be the highest, and she was awarded a lovely jewel-box. The guest prize was a box of silk hosiery, and the consolation was decided by the guests cutting for the same. Miss Helen Bennett won a couple of dainty silk handkerchiefs. An elaborate luncheon was served at noon, consisting of meats, ices and after dinner coffee.

A marriage of much interest on account of the popularity of the young couple, is that of Miss Ellen Gibson Miller and Mr. Verner Million, which occurred in Jeffersonville, on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the minister of the Southern M. E. church. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Mary Bates Miller, of this city, is one of our handsomest and most attractive girls and possesses a very lovable disposition. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Million, and is a rising young druggist, having recently passed his medical examinations with high honors. He is a graduate of the Cincinnati School of Pharmacy and is associated with the Davis Drug Co. of Nashville. He formerly attended the Model High School of E. K. S. N., from which he graduated several years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Million will make their home in Danville, where they will be followed by the good wishes of many friends.

Miss Nancy Myers entertained on Tuesday afternoon in compliment to her visitor, Miss Anna Haynes, of Marion, Ky. The house was lovely in its decorations of fall flowers, and to each fall was tied a dahlia. After a number of games, the prize, an elegant pair of silk hose, was won by Miss Austin Lilly, and the guest prize a dainty pink chamisole went to Miss Haynes. Salads and ices concluded a most enjoyable afternoon.

A lovely party of yesterday afternoon was the 500 given by Miss Marie Louise Kellogg, at her attractive home on the Summit. Three exquisite sachets were awarded as prizes and these went to Miss Helen Bennett, Miss Elizabeth Burnam and Miss Jeannette Pates. The games were succeeded by an elegant luncheon which closed a most delightful afternoon.

Prof. Chas. A. Keith, returned Friday night from Carrollton.

Mr. Robert Johnson has been visiting friends in Winchester.

Mrs. Henry Baugh and little son, are visiting Mrs. Dave Myers.

Mrs. L. B. Weisbeugh is in Middletown, O., for a week or ten days.

Miss Montague Turner has been the attractive guest of Miss Mollie Fife.

Miss Lucia Burnam has been the guest of Mrs. James Wilson, in Louisville.

Miss Zella Rice will leave in a few days for Lexington to re-enter Hamilton College.

Mrs. J. W. Caperton and daughter, Miss Jamie, are at Virginia Beach, for a couple of weeks.

Miss Lucile Gibbs is spending the week in Lexington, the guest of Mrs. G. R. Combs.

Miss Margaret Parrish, of Richmond, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Parker Dudley, Winchester, Sun.

Mr. Joe Bates, of Knox county, came Thursday, to Richmond, to re-enter the Normal school.

Master William Arnold, accompanied by his teacher, Miss Florence Dick, has returned to Lexington.

Miss Wright, of Norfolk, Va., will have Miss McKee's place as teacher of music at the E. K. S. N. S.

Miss Edna Woods Gwynne, of Georgetown, is visiting her brother, Mr. W. E. Gwynne, in Burnamwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard and daughter, Miss Lucile, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, motored to Nazareth and other points Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Coomer, of Speedwell, Madison county, visited D. H. Mathery, Sunday.—Clay City Times.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Lee Yates, are receiving congratulation over the arrival of a handsome boy on last Friday.

Mrs. Verner Million, came over from Danville and spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Mary Bates Miller.

Miss Roberts, of Ashland, Ky., Dean of Women at E. K. S. N., arrived Friday and has assumed her duties at Sullivan Hall.

Mr. Ben H. Barnard and bride reached Richmond, the latter part of the week and have rooms with Prof. Koch on the Summit.

Mrs. Galbraith, of Little Rock, Ark., is visiting relatives in the county. Both Mrs. Galbraith and little daughter have been very sick.

Miss Anna Haynes, of Marion, Ky., Mr. Latt, of Akron, Ohio, and Dr. Hancock, of Berea, have been the guests of Miss Nancy B. Myers.

Mrs. H. Hasbrock Haynes returned to her home in Detroit, after spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Evans, Mrs. Lynn and Mrs. Joe Evans enjoyed a motor trip to Lancaster, Danville, Crab Orchard, Harrodsburg and Nicholasville, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillon, Mr. John Dillon and wife and Miss Mary Eleanor Bell, motored through from Covington Wednesday, and were the guests of Mrs. J. B. Stouffer.

Among those who attended the funeral of Mr. A. J. Winters, in Lexington, Thursday, were: Mr. and Mrs. James Deatherage, Mr. and Mrs. E. Turley, Mrs. C. C. Wallace, Mrs. W. E. Luxon, Mr. William Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Deatherage, Mrs. C. F. Higgins and Miss Margaret Wilmore.

Dr. L. R. Henry and family were at Union City, last Sunday, attending church services, where Elder Christopherson is holding a meeting. Mr. I. F. Todd, who went with them, remained at his farm near there.—North Middletown (Cor) Paris-Kentuckian.

Mr. W. C. Myers, of Richmond, former of Nicholasville, visited relatives here the past week. Miss Hallie Sellers is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Sowers, in Madison county.—Jessamine Journal.

Capt. J. G. Taylor, of Brookfield, Mo., and his brother, came to this county to visit their sister, Mrs. L. P. Meek and other relatives. Unfortunately, on account of the illness of his brother, Captain Taylor was obliged to cut his visit short and return home. This is his first visit here for years. He is Chief of Police at Brookfield, which office he has held five years and is an efficient, faithful officer. We regret his inability to stay with us longer. Come again gentlemen, you are always welcome. Additional Personals on Pages 1 and 2

VITAGRAPH BLUE RIBBON FEATURE

"The - Juggernaut"

The Colossus of Modern Railway Drama
PRESENTING

Earle Williams - Anita Stewart
AT THE

OPERA HOUSE

Wednesday, Sept. 8th
ADMISSION TEN CENTS

There's A Reason

Have you figured our big sales in Millinery? There is a reason and a good one. We do not stop with putting in a stock the early part of the season and then awaiting results. We keep our stock replenished from day to day—from week to week—with all that's new in the Millinery world.

That's One Reason

Then, we do not ask exorbitant prices. We figure a reasonable profit that will satisfy our customers and ourselves. Come in and see for yourself

Richmond Millinery Company

See our Basement Display—Choice of Hats
50c, $1.00, $1.50

Please Call and Inspect the Latest Spring Dry Goods

That Are Arriving Daily
at McKee's

Mammoth - Cave

THE DRY FALL TRIP
REGULAR MORNING TRAIN SEPTEMBER 22
FROM RICHMOND AND WAY STATIONS

Round trip Railroad Fare $5.65. Board at hotel including the routes in the Cave for $6.50. An all-expense three days

Advance Showing of Fall Clothes For Men

Men and young men can come to this store now and see what Fashion has decreed in clothing, furnishings and footwear for Fall

Hats and Caps for Fall

It's a good time to choose a hat or cap. The new styles are ready and above all are right to the last detail of fashion

In liberal assortments the new Fall stocks have come in and new lots continue to arrive, rapidly making up a splendid display of Fall clothes—one that should interest every foresighted man and young man in Richmond

In Adler-Collegian Suits

We offer a particularly broad selection. Double breasted styles are gaining favor and are substantially represented in this showing. This display of suits is doubly important, for aside from being correct models for Fall wear they are appropriate for earlier service

$15 to $25

The New Footwear

Will make a strong appeal to smart dressers. The interesting point about them is their sensible lines and all round practicability. We cordially invite you to see them now in all their newness. There are many lasts we would like to show you

New Shirts in Attractive Patterns

Our new stock of shirts offers a selection that will please any man. The patterns are new, distinctive and in colors that will last

New Neckwear—reasonably priced

J. S. STANIFER

PUBLIC SALE

—OF—

Live Stock & Farming Implements

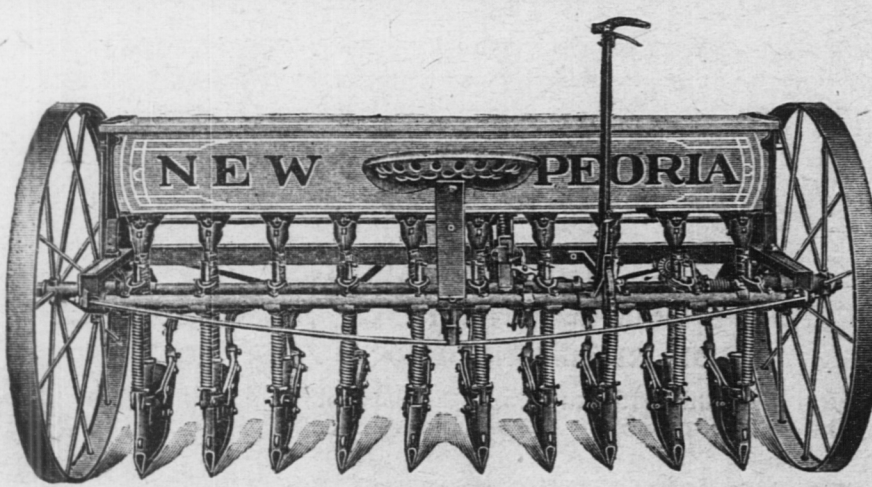

I will offer to the highest bidder, on the premises at the Z. C. Cobb farm, 9 miles from Richmond on the Lexington pike, on Wednesday, September 15, at 10 O'clock A. M.

1 jack, 3-years-old; 1 jack, 4-years-old; 1 jack, 1-year-old; 1 jennet, 7-years-old; 1 jennet colt; 1 sorrel mare, 10-years-old, colt by side; 1 sorrel mare, 9-years-old, colt by side; 1 brown mare, 11-years-old, colt by side; 1 bay mare, 6-years-old, colt by side; 1 black horse mule, 7-years-old; 1 blue mare mule, 7-years-old; 1 bay mare mule, 7-years-old; 1 bay mare mule, 6-years-old; 1 black horse mule, 4-years-old; 1 blue mare mule, 3-years-old; 1 brown horse mule, 3-years-old; 2 year-old mules, broke; 4 suckling mules; 1 yearling; 1 bay horse, 7-years-old; 1 black horse mule, 7-years-old; 1 sorrel mare, 7-years-old, registered; 1 sorrel colt; 1 black mare, 8-years-old; 2 Jersey heifers; 1 yearling bull; corn planter; bull rake; sulky rake; mowing machine; 2 cultivators; binder; roller; tobacco setter; 3 breaking plows; rafter plow; 2 double shovel plows; bull; 1 one-horse wagon; 2 two-horse wagons; corn sheller; cutting box; grind stone; diggers; shovels and numerous other things

TERMS—All sums under $10 cash in hand; over that amount note without interest, due January 1st, 1916

DAVE COBB

Long Tom Chenault, Auctioneer

We have on hand a large supply of the NEW PEORIA DRILL fitted with the wonderful DISC SHOE—makes more grain—better grain—uniform stand 100 per cent good. Call and let us show you what we have

D. B. Shackelford & Company

MANY YEARS OF SUPERIOR WAGON SERVICE

Old Hickory Wagons

We have a few 3 inch Old Hickory Wagons that we will sell

Cheap For Cash

Buy from us and get coupons in Pony Contest

OLDHAM & HARBER

Hardware and Implements

Public Sale

ON Thursday, Sept. 9th At 10 A. M.

on the premises, I will offer for sale my farm, known as the Joe Jones place, Containing 234 Acres of land situated on the Lancaster pike, six miles from Richmond. Sixty acres in cultivation, balance in grass. The farm is well fenced and well watered, contains a good 8-room residence and all necessary outbuildings.

Terms made known on day of sale.

HENRY RAYBURN

Long Tom Chenault, Auctioneer.

For Sale Farm of 80 Acres

7 miles from Richmond on the Bates Creek pike. Whitlock Station on L. & A. Railroad. To be Auctioned at 11 A. M.

Wednesd'y Sept. 22

B. M. TURNER, Admr.

Public Sale

—OF—

Farm, Crop, Stock and Implements

I will offer for sale, to the highest bidder, on the premises, 13 miles west of Red House, Ky., on Friday, September 17

At 10 A. M.

My Farm of 268 Acres

This farm is well improved and has plenty of water and shade. A desirable home for anyone. If not sold, will be rented for cash rent. At same time will sell the following

Crop, Stock and Implements

4 cows and calves; 1 bull; 4 yearling cattle; 14 shoats and 2 brood sows; mare and colt; 6 mules; 1 6-year-old, 1 5-year-old and 1 4-year-old gelding; 1 4-year-old mare; 1 two-horse wagon; 1 one-horse wagon; all kinds of farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Corn crop in field to be counted.

Terms—One-third cash. Balance on reasonable terms.

T. E. Jones
Red House, Ky

Public Sale

The heirs of Congrave Green, deceased, will offer at public sale, on the premises, on his farm located 6 miles northeast of Richmond, Ky. on the Big Hill road, 1 1/2 miles north of Irvine pike and 2 1/2 miles south of Union City. Farm contains more or less, and will first be sold in two tracts and then as a whole and the way bringing the most money will be accepted. This farm is well watered and improved; the dwelling is an old style roomy building with all necessary outbuildings. Anyone desiring an old time Kentucky home should be interested. Terms made known on day of sale.

Tuesday, Sept. 14

At 10 A. M.

152 Acres

S. L. Green

Long Tom Chenault, Auct.

Take a Rexall Orderlie Tonight It will act as a laxative in the morning

Henry L. Perry.

House For Rent.

New bungalow containing 10 rooms basement and stable. Corner Woodland Ave. and Fourth St. All modern improvements. Possession at once. Phone 745. N. B. Turpin 33-17

Public Sale

I will offer for public sale, at my place on the Irvine pike, known as the old Todd place, near Lake Reba, on Saturday, September 11 At 10 A. M.

the following described property, to-wit:

2-horse wagons; 1 2-horse corn planter; 1 riding cultivator; 1 walking cultivator; 1 double disc harrow; 1 section harrow; 3 turning plows; 1 self binder; 1 10-disc wheat drill; 3 buggies; 2 hay frames; fodder sled; yearling mare colt; Percheron 3-year-old mare; aged mare; 5-year-old family mare; pair aged cow mules; 5-year-old milk cow; Jersey cow with first calf; lot of baled straw; 20 good yearling steers; 2 sets buggy harness; 1 set wagon harness; lot of plow harness; 2 saddles; some household and kitchen furniture and numerous other things.

TERMS—All sums under $20 cash in hand; over that amount, a credit till January 1, 1916, will be given purchaser on note with approved security, without interest.

Louis Hardin

Long Tom Chenault, Auctioneer

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

The Kentucky Democratic platform as adopted at Louisville, and upon which A. O. Stanley will make the race for Governor, is as follows:

Section 1.—National Administration.—We, the representatives of the Democracy of Kentucky, in convention assembled, do reaffirm our devotion to the principles of local self government formulated by Thomas Jefferson and preserved and enforced by his illustrious Democratic successors. We heartily endorse the present Democratic Administration and review with pride the promises made in the last National Convention. Its platform was a covenant made and kept with the people, trusting, not without cause, the wisdom, courage and patriotism of the Democratic President and a Democratic Congress pledged to reforms demanded by a public long deceived and betrayed by the broken faith, the sham, pretense and incompetence of their Republican predecessors.

Our great President has been called upon to solve the most grave and serious problems which have ever faced any executive in this generation, and his patience, strength and superior statesmanship have deserved and received the confidence and approval of his countrymen and the admiration of the world. We believe that his mastery of the situation requires his re-election in 1916, and heartily endorse him as the party's most efficient and trusted leader in the coming national election, believing that patriots without regard to party recognize Woodrow Wilson as the one man best suited to lead us through the present and to perform the herculean tasks now confronting the President of the United States.

We heartily commend the efficient service of our distinguished Senators and Representatives in Congress who have tirelessly and successfully endeavored to assist their colleagues in the work of this Administration. Section 2.—State Issues.—Faith in the people and faith kept with the people are the fundamental truths of Democratic doctrine and practice. We commend the present Democratic State Administration for its adherence to these principles and its capable and efficient administration of public affairs. The Democratic State Platform of 1911 made covenants with the people and our State Legislatures have kept these covenants. We contrast this record of party performance with the utter failure of the Republican administration during the four years from 1907 to 1911 to carry into effect the platform promises of the Republican party.

Section 3.—Good Roads.—A Democratic General Assembly and a Democratic Governor have restored State aid to road building in Kentucky after a period of seventy-five years. In consequence, 104 of the 120 counties of the State are now enabled to build roads with State aid and under State supervision. The State has given its guarantee that the roads built under State supervision will be built honestly and intelligently. Good roads mean an increase in the market value of the land in every community through which they run; they mean a better price for farm products and a saving in the wear and tear of farm vehicles. They mean access to the church and the school and thus better churches and better schools. They substitute prosperity for poverty, not alone for the individual, but for the community and the State as well. Within five years, if the present plan of road building is continued, every county seat in Kentucky will be reached by one or more roads constructed under State supervision, each forming a part of the Statewide system.

The Democratic party pledges itself to a continuance of the State aid system of road building and to add to its effectiveness by more adequate supervision and to use its every effort to make available Federal aid to be used in connection with the aid furnished by the State and the respective counties.

Section 4.—Convict Labor.—We favor the adoption of the constitutional amendment authorizing the employment of convicts on the public roads of the Commonwealth. We favor the abolition of, or such change in, the Prison Contract Labor System as will make available at the earliest possible moment to the State and to the several counties the labor of such convicts as may be safely worked outside the walls of the penitentiary in the construction of public roads and in the manufacture and production of road material.

Section 5.—Our Public School System.—The Democratic party has always been the friend of education and has built up our present excellent school system, and we pledge our support to the public school system of the State and to other educational institutions; and favor the enactment of such laws as will guarantee that the money belonging to the school fund and appropriated for school purposes is wisely and economically administered. Money spent for education is an investment from which the State reaps rich returns in the future. We favor the enactment of all such laws as will make our entire common school system more efficient and more practical.

We congratulate the people of the State on the increase of the per capita for school children from $4.41 in 1911 to $5.25 this year, and on the increase in the length in the school term from six to seven months. We insist on the teaching in our common schools of the branches of education directly connected with agriculture and the various employment in rural life and homes.

Section 6.—Oppose Changing School Books.—We favor the furnishing of common school text books to the people at the least cost consistent with good quality, but we are opposed to any sweeping change in the adoption of text books at the end of any fixed period, and we favor an amendment to the present Text Book Commission Law so as to provide for a gradual change in the adoption of text books when a change is deemed necessary instead of changing the entire series at the end of any fixed or stipulated period, or in any one year.

Section 7.—Primary Election Law.—We heartily approve the law requiring the nomination of State, County and Federal officers by a direct vote of the people, and we favor such amendments as will perfect the existing law and we unqualifiedly condemn the Republican party for its effort as declared in its platform to restore boss rule by denying to the people the right to select their own candidates by a direct vote of the people.

Section 8.—Anti-Trust Laws.—We favor the enactment of such laws as will prevent the formation of trusts and monopolies.

Section 9.—Increase in Power of Railroad Commission.—We favor the enactment of a law which will increase the scope of the authority of the Railroad Commission so as to give them power to regulate other public service corporations.

Section 10.—Workmen's Compensation.—We favor a law compensating workmen for injuries received in course of their employment which will be alike just to the employer and employee.

Section 11.—Corrupt Practices Act.—We favor the enactment of a stringent Corrupt Practices Act.

Section 12.—Aid to Farmers' Association.—We earnestly favor legislation fostering and encouraging every form of legitimate co-operation among farmers and planters in the protection of their product and for obtaining and establishing favorable market conditions.

Section 13.—Anti-Pass.—We favor the enactment of a law which will prohibit any railroad, steamboat or other common carrier from giving a free pass or passes to any State, district, city, town or county officer or member of the General Assembly, any judge or any member of the family of such official, or from selling any such official or a member of his family a ticket or tickets at a reduced rate not common to the public, and prohibiting any such official from accepting a free pass or passes, or from accepting a ticket or tickets at a reduced price not common to the public, and prescribing heavy penalties against any corporation, association, joint stock company, partnership or individual who shall violate its provisions.

Section 14.—The Tax Amendment.—We favor the adoption of the tax amendment to the Constitution to be voted upon at the regular November election.

Section 15.—Revision of Tax Laws.—We favor a wide revision of our tax laws so as to equitably distribute the burdens of taxation among the taxpayers of the State.

Section 16.—Lobbyists.—We believe that no government, State or nation, should be privately owned or privately controlled, and that the practice of solicitation by politicians and lobbyists of aid from particular groups or business interests on the understanding, explicit or implied, that the first care of the government must be for these particular interests, is destructive of every principle of free and honest government. We unqualifiedly condemn the practices of the secret and corrupt lobbyist and pledge the party to a determined effort to eradicate these pernicious and baneful influences from the legislative assemblies by the enactment of stringent laws with severe penalties against the secret use of money or the promise of political preferment conditioned upon the betrayal of the public interests by public servants.

Section 17.—To Prevent Trachoma.—We commend the action of the last National Democratic Administration in its humane and laudable endeavor to prevent blindness, and especially the work done in Eastern Kentucky for the prevention and the cure of the dreaded eye disease, trachoma. And we advise the efficient co-operation of the State of Kentucky with the United States Public Health Service in the cure and prevention of trachoma, also the protection of the eyesight of children.

Section 18.—County Unit Plan.—The Democratic party has been and is the sincere and earnest champion of all legislation intended for the moral as well as the material advancement of the State. To it, and to it alone, is due the legislation which gives to each county in the State the absolute control over the vending of spirituous liquors, and no county should be deprived, by any outside interference, of the right to determine this matter for itself.

We reaffirm and reassert our unqualified approval of the present County Unit Law and of the declaration of the Democratic party in the convention of August 15, 1911, pledging the party to its adoption. This Act has been strengthened by carefully considered amendment, and the field of its operation enlarged so that each of the counties in the State may determine for itself whether the sale of alcoholic beverages may be licensed or prohibited, and embodies the full and final judgment of the legislative and executive branches of the government. It has been interpreted and its constitutionality established by the courts, and we approve of its rigid and in spirit, and condemn any effort to impair or weaken its wise provisions by revision or amendment.

In legislation affecting the moral welfare of the people the party may well be guided by our great leader, whose wisdom and righteousness are the priceless boon of a triumphant Democracy. We unqualifiedly commend to the Democracy of Kentucky his sage admonition that "the questions involved in such legislation are social and moral and are not susceptible of being made parts of a party programme. Whenever they have been made the subject matter of party contests they have cut the lines of party organization and party action astward to the utter confusion of political action in every other field." With this party programme of the highest consequence to the political life of the State and of the nation ought to be thrust on one side and hopelessly embarrassed for long periods together by making a political issue of a great question which in essentially non-partisan, non-moral and non-political in its nature, and therefore we oppose further agitation and legislative experiment, holding that existing laws if fairly tried will achieve the ends for which they were designed.

Section 19.—For Economy and Efficiency.—We favor rigid economy in the administration of the State's affairs to the end that the people may receive a maximum of service at a minimum of cost, and to that end we favor the immediate abolition of all useless offices and the rendering of full and adequate service in every department of the State Government.

Scratched 40 Years

Used D. D. D. All Itching Gone!

This is the actual experience of Anne Cronan, Santa Rosa, Cal., with the wonderful D. D. D. Prescription. "D. D. D. is the proven Eczema Cure the mild wash that gives instant relief in all forms of skin trouble. Cleanses the skin of all impurities, washes away blotches and pimples, leaving the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child. Get a 50c bottle of this wonderful Eczema Cure today and keep it in the house. We know that D. D. D. will do all that is claimed for it."

Stockton & Son

If You Have Lost Anything of Value Advertise In This Paper And Get It Back.

THIS OFFICE DOES THE BEST JOB PRINTING

YOU CAN Save From 10 to 25 Per Cent BY TRADING

At Stouffer's

We have a large and complete stock of Clothing, consisting of

Suits, Overcoats, Shirts, Hats, Caps, Etc

In fact everything kept in a firstclass Clothing Store will be found here

Trunks, Suit Cases, Traveling Bags

Our Tailoring Department is second to none. Give us a call—your trade will be appreciated

Mrs. J. B. Stouffer, Admx

D. C. Biggerstaff Harry Potts Salesmen

The Climax-Madisonian the Best Paper in the State $1 a year

: JOB : PRINTING :

Persons in need of any Printing that can be done in a well equipped printing office will find it to their interest to give The Climax office a trial. Work guaranteed to give satisfaction in correctness and neatness and prices as low as is consistent with good workmanship

If You Need

Sale Bills
Wedding Invitations
Dodgers
Visiting Cards
Circulars
Business Cards
Blanks
Envelopes
Letter Heads Statements
Bill Heads
Programs, Tags, Etc

A trial order might make you a permanent patron of The Climax when you want a job of Printing done

Ed. V. Price & Co., Chicago

because there are none better for the money. Men who order them once continue to do so season after season

Prives very reasonable

E. V. ELDER

Watch Our Window Display

IF YOU HAVE ANYTHING TO SELL ADVERTISE IT

Fire Insurance Tornado

Telephone 707

We still have a few
Rugs and Carpet
Samplesthat we are selling
At a BargainBennett and Higgins

Furniture and Undertaking

THE KELLOGG TRIPTo The Pacific Coast and Return
In Ford Touring Car As Given By Mr. Kellogg.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg and daughter, Miss Marie Louise, reached Richmond, Friday, August 27, on their return trip to the Pacific Coast in their Ford touring car. When asked for an account of the trip, Mr. Kellogg said:

"We left Richmond on June 5, going through Cincinnati and Dayton to Lima, Ohio, from which point we followed the Lincoln Highway west. Our course took us through northern Indiana and Illinois, crossing the Mississippi river at Clifton, Iowa, and the Missouri river at Council Bluffs, Iowa, from which we entered Nebraska at Omaha.

"The Lincoln Highway leads almost direct west from Omaha through Nebraska and southern Wyoming to Salt Lake City, and from that point there is a choice of two routes to Reno, Nevada. The northern route follows the Union Pacific Railroad quite closely, while the southern route is through Salt Lake desert, and is at many points 100 miles from the nearest railroad. The price of gasoline at such points was often 50 cents per gallon and lubricating oil 25 to 30 cents per quart.

"From Reno, Nevada, the route by Lake Tahoe was taken, and a stop made at this beautiful lake, and from there to San Francisco through Sacramento and Stockton.

"Of course, on a trip of this kind a great many interesting places and sights are seen. But what probably was one of the most interesting experiences was the fact that at Cheyenne, Wyoming, we were able to see the buyers for foreign countries inspecting cavalry and artillery horses. Many of these were brought in fresh from the ranches and never had a rope on them, and it was necessary before they were inspected that they have a saddle and bridle put on them, and be ridden. The best riding cow boys in the world were there to do the work but some of the mounts offered them were so wild they couldn't stay on. It was no circus play, but real business, and even before a saddle and bridle could be put on some of the horses they had to be thrown and their legs tied together, with two or three men sitting on their heads. The queue and other transcontinental routes are simply the best accepted grades on which to make a trip of this sort. Except at very few points there has been no attempt made to pave any Transcontinental Route and the roads are in some places hard to get over at any degree of speed even in fair weather. When wet weather is encountered, especially in the states of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, roads become almost impassable. The claim is made that some of this farming land is worth $200 an acre, and more; but it is hard to think of any such price when it is realized that one cannot even go to see his neighbor when it rains, unless he uses an airplane. Through states such as Wyoming and Nevada, there is enough sand and rock in the soil to make the trails hold up pretty well even in wet weather, and strange as it may seem, the best roads, except of course, those that are paved, are encountered on the desert and on the salt flats. The latter when in good condition are as flat as a concrete pavement and admit of unlimited speed. On the trip out chains were used on the car only one afternoon from Cedar Rapids to Marshalltown, Iowa, the balance of the time the roads being dry.

"About a week was spent at the San Francisco Exposition and the drive was made to Los Angeles by what is called the Coast Route, which follows the Santa Clara valley and passes through Paso Robles, which has for some years been the training grounds of the Chicago 'White Sox,' and through Santa Barbara. On this trip the San Marco Pass was gone over just before reaching Santa Barbara. It is hard for anyone who has never driven on any of these roads to realize what a Pass of this kind means. The road for twenty miles before beginning the actual grade led through a valley filled with treacherous dry washes and chuck holes, and the grade itself is 3-1/2 miles in length running as high as fifteen to twenty-five percent grade, a good part of the way, with one hairpin turn after another to and along the side of the mountain. The road is so narrow that it is necessary to blast the road wide enough, so that two cars may pass. If two cars meet between the passing places, it is necessary for one to back up to let the other pass, and where the road is narrow, one may look out of the side of the car straight down the mountain hundreds of feet. This particular Pass was used so much this summer that the road was in very bad condition.

"We reached St. Louis on Thursday night, August 19th, and for the next twenty-four hours, more rain fell than has ever been known in the history of the weather bureau at that point. A great many people—some twenty-five or thirty—were drowned in the city limits of St. Louis, or immediately outside of same, and owing to the flooded condition of Southern Illinois we were not able to resume our journey until Tuesday, August 24. We thought we could cut straight across southern Illinois to Vincennes, Indiana, and from there to Louisville, but after a hard day's work trying to get East we had to content ourselves with being only 80 miles from St. Louis after having run 140 miles and had worked north to Pana, Illinois, which is on the same east and west line as Terre Haute, Indiana. At that point we got on gravel roads, which are not affected by wet weather and were then glad to cross the Ohio river at Louisville, Thursday morning, August 26th, and reached Lexington Thursday night, running over to Richmond Friday morning.

The total number of miles traveled was 6,784, and no more mechanical

OUR PUBLIC FORUMF. A. Vanderlip
On The Business of Banking

The farmers of this nation to come into their own must study business. We must, as a class, understand the fundamental principles that underlie every industry, its functions to society and its relation to agriculture, for there can be no intelligent co-operation without understanding. Mr. F. A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, when asked "What is a Bank?" said in part:

"The first and most familiar function of a bank is that of gathering up the idle money of a community, small sums and large, and thus forming a pool or reservoir upon which responsible persons may draw as they have temporary use for money. It is evident that this makes large sums in the aggregate available for the employment of the community. But much more important is the use of the money actually deposited in the banks, for by the use of drafts, checks and bank notes the efficiency of money is multiplied several times over. A very large business, for example one of the great beef packers, may take very little actual money; one side of its bank account will be entered the checks and drafts it is daily receiving from everywhere in payment for meats, while on the other side will be entered the checks it draws in payment for cattle, etc., its only use of money being for small payments to labor and other expenses.

"If there were but one bank in a community and everybody paid all bills by drawing checks on that bank, and everyone receiving a check immediately deposited it in the bank, the amount of money in the bank evidently would not change at all and the entire business of the community would be settled on the books of the bank. And the situation is but slightly changed when there are several banks, for they daily exchange among themselves all the checks they receive on each other, which practically offset themselves. Although the small balances are paid in cash, this is called 'clearing,' and in every large city there is a 'Clearing House' where representatives of the banks meet daily to settle their accounts with each other.

A bank is constantly receiving from its customers, particularly those that are shipping products to other localities, drafts and checks drawn on banks in other cities, which it usually sends for deposit to a few corresponding banks in the central cities with which it maintains permanent accounts. In this way these scattered credits are consolidated and the bank draws upon these accounts in supplying customers with the means of making payments away from home. As each local community sells and buys about the same amount abroad in the course of a year, these payments largely offset each other. It is evident that the banks are very intimately related to the trade and industry of a country. The bank is a dealer in credit much more than a dealer in money, and of course his own credit must be above question. He exchanges his credit for the credits acquired by his customers, and lends credit for their accommodation, but he must conduct the business with such judgment that he can always meet his own obligations with cash on demand. This is the essential thing about bank credit, that it shall always be the same as cash."

dillon and a great many cars were put out of business trying to negotiate it. Such roads as this lead to a great many accidents, and when you add to this the fact there seemed to be more than the average number of careless drivers in California, the running of an automobile in that state isn't the unalloyed pleasure which the reading of the boosting literature sent out by California would lead one to believe. Of course, a great many cars were naturally seen in the trip through one cause or another on a trip the length of this; but more accidents where people were killed or injured, came to our notice in California than at all the rest of the trip. It is no uncommon thing to pick up a Los Angeles Monday paper and see accounts of some accident which has happened in that vicinity on Sunday, in which there was more or less loss of life or injury due almost entirely to reckless driving and desire for speed; and this doesn't improve the nerve of a stranger driving in that country.

"Not much time was spent in Los Angeles, but we had a most pleasant visit of ten days with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Scanlan, formerly of Richmond, but now living at Long Beach, Cal., where they have a beautiful home. From Long Beach many beautiful drives were taken to the many points of interest in that section, and the trip to the San Diego Exposition was made by boat from San Pedro, which is the port of Los Angeles.

"The start for home was made July 29th over what is known as the Santa Fe Trail. This route crosses the Mojave desert, leaving California at Needles, where the Santa Fe Railroad bridge is used to cross the Colorado river. The fare for an automobile across this bridge is $3.50, just $1.50 less than ferry charges. Stops were made at Grand Canyon, Cliff Dwelling Ruins, Petrified Forests and other points of interest, a day being spent at Santa Fe New Mexico, which is a most interesting place. We reached there on Sunday evening and that night the band, dressed in red uniforms, played on the Plaza, much after the fashion of the South American countries. The Spanish language is more spoken in Santa Fe than English, and the town is of the appearance and reminds one strongly of a foreign town. At Albuquerque, New Mexico, we had the pleasure of seeing Mr. Leslie Rice, formerly of Madison county, who is a prosperous druggist there. From Santa Fe, the road led over the Raton Pass to La Junta, Colorado, from which point the road is almost directly east to St. Louis, Mo. We were lucky in escaping any bad rains until Kansas City was reached. Our best day's run on the trip was from Lyons, Kansas, to Kansas City, Mo., a distance of 200 miles. It took three days to make the trip from Kansas City to St. Louis, a distance of 275 miles. The roads were soaked by continuous rains and were in bad condition. It seems strange that in a state like Missouri, where there is at least a moderate quantity of rock and gravel available, the people are satisfied to have such roads or such lack of roads that when it rains they are practically marooned in their own homes.

"We reached St. Louis on Thursday night, August 19th, and for the next twenty-four hours, more rain fell than has ever been known in the history of the weather bureau at that point. A great many people—some twenty-five or thirty—were drowned in the city limits of St. Louis, or immediately outside of same, and owing to the flooded condition of Southern Illinois we were not able to resume our journey until Tuesday, August 24. We thought we could cut straight across southern Illinois to Vincennes, Indiana, and from there to Louisville, but after a hard day's work trying to get East we had to content ourselves with being only 80 miles from St. Louis after having run 140 miles and had worked north to Pana, Illinois, which is on the same east and west line as Terre Haute, Indiana. At that point we got on gravel roads, which are not affected by wet weather and were then glad to cross the Ohio river at Louisville, Thursday morning, August 26th, and reached Lexington Thursday night, running over to Richmond Friday morning.

The total number of miles traveled was 6,784, and no more mechanical trouble was encountered than would ordinarily occur in driving a Ford such a distance. I drove the car the entire distance, and it was under its own power at all times, except when the passengers would have to occasionally push to get out of a mud or sand hole, or get the car on top of one of those crowned dirt roads that it had slipped off of into a ditch. The car was never hitched on to any other car or team, and all repairs were either made in the garage or on the road, and it wasn't necessary at all to pull the car into the garage for any repairs. There were, of course, repairs that were necessary. One morning, 15 miles from Trinidad, Colorado, in the desert, a rear wheel came off coming out of a bad arroyo; but there was a fellow Fordite from Indiana going back to Trinidad, kindly took me and the rear wheel back to the Ford agent at that point. A new hub was put in, the wheel was taken out and put on the car, and the time consumed was exactly three hours and fifty minutes. That day we made 197 miles.

"We were all mighty glad to get back to Kentucky, and didn't see anything on the trip that looked as good to us. We are all convinced that well paved streets and good roads are the biggest advertisement and asset that any community can have. People are traveling more and more in motor cars, and they will travel where they can travel in comfort. So we figure that it is good business for any town or any county to so improve their streets and turnpikes as to encourage travel, both by their own residents and by strangers, who may have a dollar to spend.

"We consider ourselves exceedingly fortunate in making this trip with practically no hardships or trouble of any kind. There were a great many who encountered all sorts of trouble, not only with their cars, but with almost uninterrupted bad weather. There were a great many who started on the trip out, who never finished at the coast, either shipping their cars back or disposing of them for what they would bring; and there are many more who intended coming back, who got to the coast and came back on the train. We have been asked many times since we returned if we were tired out. But we were no more tired than one ordinarily would be when traveling every day; and you might say that none of us were under the weather a minute on the entire trip.

"On the trip from Cincinnati out, we were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Burton of Elsinore, Cal., and their niece, Miss Alberta Webb, of Orange, N. J. Mr. Burton drove a Hudson Six, and had made the trip from his home to Cincinnati in April and May, so that he, too, made the round trip. He was equally fortunate on the trip going out, in that he had no trouble to speak of.

"We account for our practically entire absence of trouble on the road to the fact that we were driving a light car, which was much easier to handle on muddy roads and in tight places than a larger and heavier car would have been. We were also careful not to drive too fast, and not to run at night, except in case of emergency—that is, when it required a few miles to reach a place where we could get accommodations. We were also careful to see that our car was oiled often and thoroughly, and always had immediate attention given to any little trouble that might develop. We made it a rule to fill up our gasoline tank whenever there was room forasmuch as a quantity as two or three gallons, as we were not sure how far the next station was and when we would reach it; and we also found that a stop for gasoline very often gave us the advantage of information about roads ahead or other matters which we picked up from the garage

A Reliable Tonic.
Many of the people around here know a good deal about this splendid remedy; to those who do not, we wish to say that Meritol Tonic Digestive is the greatest strength renewer, flesh builder and nerve tonic we have ever seen. For people in poor health, weak, run down and played out, those not as strong and vigorous as they should be, we recommend this tonic. Price $1. Madison Drug Company Local Agents.—Adv.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELFWhich is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Richmond Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is. Now suppose you had a bad back, A lame, weak, or aching one. Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures. Endorsed by strangers from far-away places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home. Easy to prove local testimony. Read this Richmond case: Mrs. S. W. Parks, 132 Big Hill Ave., Richmond, says: "I had severe pains in my back and at times the action of my kidneys became irregular. I was also nervous and dizzy and mornings when I awoke I felt stiff and lame. Dean's Kidney Pills, procured at Middelton's Drug Store, stopped the pain and regulated the kidney action. Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dean's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Parks had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv. sep man. "A trip such as we have taken is extremely hard on any automobile, owing to the fact that all roads are strange, and in the west there are such grades as the San Marco Pass which we crossed and lesser ones, which are as hard or harder to go down as they are to go up. An ordinary brake, such as is ample in this country, will burn out quickly if used on a grade two or three miles long, so that use must be made of the motor and other methods employed to keep the car under control, on one of these long, steep, winding and dangerous descents. In order that any reasonable mileage be made, one must run at 20 to 25 miles per hour when the opportunity offers. But it very often happens that when going at this pace a bad chuck-hole or other obstacle looms up ahead and speed must immediately be slackened. When you consider that all cars on a trip of this sort are more or less overloaded, the strain on the mechanism or the tires in doing this work day after day is very great, and the wonder is that as many cars were successful in making the trip as was the case.

"We enjoyed our trip thoroughly; every minute of it; and are more than glad that we took it. There are also a great many points visited and sections of the country we are glad that we went to see, because it is like some other things that one does—it never has to be done again.

"We were all mighty glad to get home and our trip only added to our appreciation of our own country. In fact, it was a constant source of wonder to us how anyone, unless through absolute force of circumstances, could leave a country such as this, or in fact any of the country in the Ohio Valley or the Lake region and take up their home either in a section where there are no roads but dirt—and no roads at all, when it rains—or where there is nothing but sand, and in order to have anything green around you, you must give as much attention to the planting and watering of even the most ordinary tree as you would to the raising of the most valuable crop in this section."

If you can spare
it, we will appreciate that dollar*Old Baptists Meet

At the recent annual meeting of the North Division of the Old Baptists Association held at Liberty, East County, a record breaking crowd was in attendance. During the meeting a new church was established at Irvine, and Rev. J. N. Cullton, of this city, was chosen as pastor.

Hauling of all kinds promptly done. Elmer Tate, Irvine street, Phone 783. 4

Lost Anything?An Ad. May Fetch It Back*Bob O-Sink!

The Friendship Bracelet
Let us supply you with "Bob-o-links" for your Friendship Bracelet. Sterling Silver "Bob-o-links" cost only 25c each, engraving included—and we give you free a velvet wrist-ribbon for your first "Bob-o-link". Call today and see the "Bob-o-links".

This mark identifies the genuine "Bob-O-Sink"

Genuine "Bob-o-links" are for sale by
L. E. LANE

Tobacco Insurance

Over Stockton's Drug Store

Private Preparatory School*For Boys

Wednesday, Sept. 15th

6th Year

Students Enter Without Examination

—State University
—Georgetown College
—Virginia Military Institute

For Terms Address

W. E. Gwynne, Instructor

Richmond, Kentucky

YOU SHOULD NOT NEGLECT TO "SCREEN" YOUR PORCHES, DOORS AND WINDOWS. YOUR DOCTOR WILL TELL YOU THAT FLIES AND MOSQUITOES AND LITTLE "BUGS" OF ALL KIND CARRY DISEASE BREEDING GERMS WHEREVER THEY GO. YOU MAY AVOID A CASE OF DANGEROUS, EXPENSIVE "TYPHOID" IN YOUR HOME THIS VERY YEAR IF YOU BUY SOME SCREENS FROM US.

REMEMBER, OUR HARDWARE STANDS HARD WEAR

DOUGLAS & SIMMONSYou Get Eight Cents Back*from Every Dollar You Spend with Us—under*Our New Profit
Sharing Plan

Come in and ask for full particulars about this new plan of ours which practically makes you a partner in our business

Madison Drug CoSeeds:

Rye, Barley, Crimson Clover
Alfalfa Clover, Red
Clover, Timothy

We have full stocks of everything in Field Seed line. and the prices are right

McKinney and Deatherage

35 TWO PHONES 42

For : Sale
CHEAP*2 Peck-Williamson Hot Air Furnaces

1 Top Feed 1 Under Feed

Will Sell Cheap for Cash if Taken at Once

If interested call on or address

Richmond Heating & Pumbing Co.

Clay Building, Main Street Richmond, Ky
Phone 270 Phone 658

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good." Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

CARDUIThe Woman's Tonic

Get a Bottle Today!- AUTO BUS -

Will meet all trains. Will call for you and your baggage. Never too busy to serve you

YOUR BUSINESS SOLICITED

JOHN W. AZBILL

Office in rear of Hotel Glyndon

Phones 399 and 710

"Vaporize" Croup or Cold Troubles

Vapor treatments for cold troubles are better than internal medicines, as the vapor carries the medication direct to the lungs and air passages without disturbing the stomach.

When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve is applied over the throat and chest, these vapors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled with each breath. 25c. to $1.00.

VAPORUB

VICK'S Croup and SALVE

Grand Bargain Day Begins the Thirteenth Annual Kentucky State Fair

10c--Women and Children to Gates and Hippodrome--10c

ON THE MIDWAY AT THE STATE FAIR.

THE thirteenth annual Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville Sept. 13-18, will be launched with the start of a Grand Bargain Day for Ladies and Children, with a gate admission of 10 cents, a like sum for the big and brilliant Hippodrome Show (which on other days and nights will be 25 cents) and a rate of 5 cents to all the wonderful and interesting offerings on the Midway, which will be manned this season by the King of Carnival Purveyors, Con T. Kennedy.

Other special days and nights designated for Fair week and the chairmen and officials who stand sponsor for the dates named are as follows:

SPECIAL DAYS.
Fred W. Kelaker, General Chairman.
MONDAY, SEPT. 13.
BOOSTERS' DAY--SCHOOL CHILDREN'S DAY.
Professor E. O. Holland, Superintendent Louisville City Schools, Chairman.
Paul L. Loh, Vice Chairman.
TUESDAY, SEPT. 14.
LOUISVILLE DAY--EASTERN KENTUCKY DAY.
Hon. John H. Bushmeyer, Mayor of Louisville, Chairman.
Col. J. H. Northrup, Louisville, Ky., Vice Chairman.
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15.
FARMERS' DAY--GOOD ROADS DAY.
Colonel R. J. McBryde, Louisville, Ky., Chairman.
Charles H. Barker, Pembroke, Ky., Vice Chairman.

Wonder World of Feminine Work In Woman's Building of Kentucky State Fair

THAT needlework is not a "lost art" and high class cooking lines up unshamed with the output of brush and pencil are demonstrated by the varied branches of handicraft and handcraft listed and to be shown in the woman's department of the Kentucky State Fair, which will be held in Louisville Sept. 13-18.

Each season the entries for this department are revised and almost invariably enlarged in order to keep step with the progress of fashions and fads in feminine fripperies, and this year will be no exception to the rule. The interest in this portion of the great agricultural and live stock exhibit to be held in Louisville Sept. 13-18 promises one of the most elaborate displays in Kentucky State Fair history. Throughout the state are being prepared wonders of needlework, crocheting, china painting, canvas work, quilting and embroidery, and thought is being given to the coming contest in the line of cooking and preserving.

The Woman's Department in this year under the supervision of Mrs. Harry McCarty of Nicholasville, with Miss Helen Bond of Versailles and Mrs. H. D. Robb of Okolona as assistants in the "Textile" section; Miss Eva McGraw, Bayton, assistant in the Arts and Crafts section, and Mrs. Henry Cox, West Liberty, assistant in the Culinary section.

The various classes in the Woman's Department include household fabrics, such as rugs, portieres, quilts, etc.; ladies' wearing apparel, miscellaneous needlework, infants' articles, household linens, embroidery, handkerchiefs, lace work, crochet and knitting, miscellaneous novelties, work of old ladies over sixty-five, work of girls in some high school of the state, work of children under thirteen, bread, pies, cakes, cookies, doughnuts, etc.; candy, canned fruits and vegetables, preserves, pickles, jellies, jams, marmalades, handcraft, tooled leather, weaving, designing, photography, art and metal work.

All applications for entry in this department must be made by or before the 30th of August. Address all inquiries or entries to Woman's Department, Kentucky State Fair, Louisville, Ky.

GRAND EXHIBITION AT STATE FAIR

Product of Boys and Girls' Pig, Corn, Canning and Chicken Club Work Enticingly Arrayed In Special Building

TO stimulate the interest of boys and girls in practical farm work and to instill in them a natural love for and interest in animals, as well as formulate habits of thrift and industry, the Kentucky State Fair management has added to the importance of juvenile club work in Kentucky by arranging for an entire exhibition building, at the coming State Fair, Sept. 13-18, which will be devoted to exhibiting the products of the youth of the state.

The whole department of juvenile club work in Kentucky is under the supervision of Government State Agent Geoffrey Morgan of Lexington, Ky., and Mr. Morgan and his assistants are busily engaged in directing, stimulating and instructing club workers already organized, as well as formulating new bands in various communities.

The Boys' Corn Club work is under the supervision of B. G. Nelson of Hopkinsville, and the rules for this club require that each contestant must be between ten and eighteen years of age, a pupil of the public schools and must raise at least one acre of corn.

Olds Kercher is state agent for the Boys' Pig Clubs, and boys of the same ages, ten to eighteen years, are eligible. Each member must care for his stock in person, keeping records of feed and grazing. He must also have owned his pig for a period of not less than four months up to the time of the State Fair.

The Girls' Canning Club exhibit promises to be very interesting. There are attractive premiums offered for the best assortment of canned vegetables and fruits in both glass and tin and the best exhibits of jellies.

The Poultry Club work is supervised by H. W. Ricker, Lexington, and all members desiring to compete at the State Fair exhibition must secure a certificate of membership from him. There will be no entry fee charged for members exhibiting in this class. All breeds will compete for the prizes, and premiums will be paid on male, female and peps. All birds shown in this class must be raised and shown by a member of one of the poultry clubs in Kentucky.

In addition to the premiums in this class, Levy Brothers have generously donated to the winner of the best specimen shown a handsome $10 gift of their famous clothes, or, if the prize is captured by a girl, the firm will give its equivalent in merchandise suitable to a miss.

That evening we were all at dinner when Elsie rushed in with a cry of

SEEING LIFE with JOHN HENRY & George Hobart

John Henry on Servant Problem

WHEN Peaches and I got tired of the Big Town--tired of its noises and hullohallo; tired of being tagged by taxis as we cross a street; tired of watching grocers and butchers hoisting higher the highest cost of living--that's our cue to grab a choo-choo and breeze out to Uncle Peter's farm and bungalow in the wilds of Westchester, which he calls Troolrooral.

Just to even matters up, Uncle Peter and his wife visit us from time to time in our apartment in the Big Town.

Uncle Peter is a very stout old gentleman. When he squeezes into his little flat the walls act as if they were bowlegged.

Uncle Peter always goes through the folding doors sideways, and every time he sits down the man in the apartment below us kicks because we move the piano so often.

Aunt Martha is Uncle Peter's wife and she weighs more and breathes oftener.

When the two of them visit our bird cage at the same time the janitor has to go out and stand in front of the building with a view to catching it if it falls.

When we reached Troolrooral we found that "Cousin Elsie" Schulz was also a visitor there.

"Cousin Elsie" is a sort of privileged character in the family, having lived with Aunt Martha for nearly twenty years as a sort of housekeeper.

They call her "Cousin Elsie" just to make it more difficult.

Three or four years ago Elsie married Gustave Bierbauer and quit her job.

"Cousin Elsie" believes that conversation was invented for her exclusive use, and the way she can grab a bundle of the English language and break it up is a caution.

Two years after their marriage, id Gustave stopped living so abruptly, that the coroner had to sit on him. The post mortem found out that Gustave had died from a rush of words to his brainpan.

The coroner also found, upon further examination, that all of these words had formerly belonged to Elsie.

Then Lizzie and the Green Umbrella Struck a Casey-at-the-Bat Pose.

With the exception of a few which were once the property of Gustave's favorite bartender.

After Gustave's exit, Aunt Martha tried to get Elsie back on her job, but the old Dutch had her eye on Herman Schulz, and finally married him.

So now every once in a while Elsie moscys over from Plainfield, N. J., where she lives with Herman, and proceeds to sew a lot of pillow slips and things for Aunt Martha.

One morning while Peaches and I were at breakfast, Elsie meandered in bearing in her hand a wedding invitation which Herman had forwarded to her from Plainfield.

Elsie read the invitation: "Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ganderkurds request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Verbona, to Galahad Schmalzenberger, at the home of her bride's parents, Plainfield, N. J. March Sixteenth, R. S. V. P."

"Well," said Elsie, "I know der Ganderkurds and I know der daughter, Verbona, and I know Galahad Schmalzenberger; he's a floorwalker in Bauerhaupt's grocery store, but I don't know vot it is der R. S. V. P. yet!"

I gently kicked Peaches on the instep under the table, and said to Elsie, "Well, that is a new one on me. Are you sure it isn't B. & O. or C. R. R. V. P.?" I've heard of those two railroad lines in New Jersey, but I never heard of the R. S. V. P.

For the first time in her life since she's been able to grab a sentence between her teeth and shake the pronouns out of it Elsie was fazed.

She kept looking at the invitation and saying to herself, "R. S. V. P. Vot is it? I know der honor of your presence; I know der bride's parents, but I don't know R. S. V. P."

All that day Elsie wandered through the house muttering to herself: "R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Is it some secret between the bride and groom? R. S. V. P. Vot is it? I know der honor of your presence; I know der bride's parents, but I don't know R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Vot is it?"

That evening we were all at dinner when Elsie rushed in with a cry of joy. "I got it!" she said. "I hat untied der meaning of der R. S. V. P. It means Real Silver Wedding Presents!"

I was just about to drink a glass of water, so I changed my mind and nearly choked to death.

Elsie's interpretation of that wedding invitation is going to set Herman Schulz back several dollars, or I'm not a foot high.

And maybe they don't have their troubles at Troolrooral with the servant problem.

One morning later on Peaches and I were out on the top porch drinking in the glorious air and chatting with Hep Hardy, who had come out to spend Sunday with us, when Aunt Martha came bustling out, followed by Uncle Peter, who, in turn, was followed by Lizzie Joyce, their latest cook.

Lizzie wore a new lid, trimmed with prairie grass and dried daisies, hanging like a shade over the left lamp; she had a grouchy looking grip in one hand and a green umbrella with black freckles in the other.

She was made up to catch the first train that snuffed into the station.

Aunt Martha whispered to us plaintively: "Lizzie has been here only two days, and this makes the seventh time she has started for town."

But Lizzie took the center of the stage and scowled at her audience.

"I'm takin' the next train for town, mem!" she announced with considerable bitterness.

"What is it this time, Lizzie?" inquired Aunt Martha.

Lizzie put the grouchy grip down, folded her arms, and said: "Oh, I have me grievances!"

Uncle Peter sidled up to Aunt Martha and said in a hoarse whisper: "My dear, this shows a lack of firmness on your part. Now leave everything to me and let me settle this obnoxious servant once and for all!"

Uncle Peter crossed over and got in the limelight with Lizzie.

"It occurs to me," he began in polished accents, "that this is an occasion upon which I should properly put out to you the error of your way, and send you back to your humble station with a better knowledge of your status in this household."

"Scat!" said Lizzie, and Uncle Peter began to fish for his next line.

"I want you to understand," he went on, "that I pay you your wages!"

"Sure, if you didn't," was Lizzie's come-back, "I'd land on you good and hard, that I would. What else are you here for, you fathead?"

"Fath!" echoed Uncle Peter in astonishment.

"Peter, leave her to me," pleaded Aunt Martha.

But Uncle Peter rushed blindly on to destruction. "Elizabeth," he said sternly, "in view of your most unrefined and unladylike language, it behooves me to reprimand you severely. I will therefore--"

Then Lizzie and the green umbrella struck a Casey-at-the-Bat pose, and sent the old Dutch flying.

"G'wan away from me with your old novel talk or I'll place the back of me unladylike hand on your jowls!"

"Peter!" wretchedly exclaimed the perturbed Aunt Martha.

"Yes, Martha, you're right," the old gentleman said, turning hastily. "Must hurry and finish my correspondence before the moving mail goes." And he faded away.

"It isn't an easy matter to get servants out here," Aunt Martha whispered to us. "I must humor her. Now, Lizzie, what's wrong?"

"You told me, mem, that I should have a room with a southern exposure--the Queen of Bungalows."

"And isn't the room as described?" asked Aunt Martha.

"The room is all right, but I don't care for the exposure," said the Princess of Porchpops.

"Well, what's wrong?" insisted our patient auntie.

"Sure," said the Baroness of Bread the house muttering to herself: "R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Is it some secret between the bride and groom? R. S. V. P. Vot is it? I know der honor of your presence; I know der bride's parents, but I don't know R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Vot is it?"

That evening we were all at dinner when Elsie rushed in with a cry of joy. "I got it!" she said. "I hat untied der meaning of der R. S. V. P. It means Real Silver Wedding Presents!"

I was just about to drink a glass of water, so I changed my mind and nearly choked to death.

Elsie's interpretation of that wedding invitation is going to set Herman Schulz back several dollars, or I'm not a foot high.

And maybe they don't have their troubles at Troolrooral with the servant problem.

One morning later on Peaches and I were out on the top porch drinking in the glorious air and chatting with Hep Hardy, who had come out to spend Sunday with us, when Aunt Martha came bustling out, followed by Uncle Peter, who, in turn, was followed by Lizzie Joyce, their latest cook.

Lizzie wore a new lid, trimmed with prairie grass and dried daisies, hanging like a shade over the left lamp; she had a grouchy looking grip in one hand and a green umbrella with black freckles in the other.

She was made up to catch the first train that snuffed into the station.

Aunt Martha whispered to us plaintively: "Lizzie has been here only two days, and this makes the seventh time she has started for town."

But Lizzie took the center of the stage and scowled at her audience.

"I'm takin' the next train for town, mem!" she announced with considerable bitterness.

"What is it this time, Lizzie?" inquired Aunt Martha.

Lizzie put the grouchy grip down, folded her arms, and said: "Oh, I have me grievances!"

Uncle Peter sidled up to Aunt Martha and said in a hoarse whisper: "My dear, this shows a lack of firmness on your part. Now leave everything to me and let me settle this obnoxious servant once and for all!"

Uncle Peter crossed over and got in the limelight with Lizzie.

"It occurs to me," he began in polished accents, "that this is an occasion upon which I should properly put out to you the error of your way, and send you back to your humble station with a better knowledge of your status in this household."

"Scat!" said Lizzie, and Uncle Peter began to fish for his next line.

"I want you to understand," he went on, "that I pay you your wages!"

"Sure, if you didn't," was Lizzie's come-back, "I'd land on you good and hard, that I would. What else are you here for, you fathead?"

"Fath!" echoed Uncle Peter in astonishment.

"Peter, leave her to me," pleaded Aunt Martha.

But Uncle Peter rushed blindly on to destruction. "Elizabeth," he said sternly, "in view of your most unrefined and unladylike language, it behooves me to reprimand you severely. I will therefore--"

Then Lizzie and the green umbrella struck a Casey-at-the-Bat pose, and sent the old Dutch flying.

"G'wan away from me with your old novel talk or I'll place the back of me unladylike hand on your jowls!"

"Peter!" wretchedly exclaimed the perturbed Aunt Martha.

"Yes, Martha, you're right," the old gentleman said, turning hastily. "Must hurry and finish my correspondence before the moving mail goes." And he faded away.

"It isn't an easy matter to get servants out here," Aunt Martha whispered to us. "I must humor her. Now, Lizzie, what's wrong?"

"You told me, mem, that I should have a room with a southern exposure--the Queen of Bungalows."

"And isn't the room as described?" asked Aunt Martha.

"The room is all right, but I don't care for the exposure," said the Princess of Porchpops.

"Well, what's wrong?" insisted our patient auntie.

"Sure," said the Baroness of Bread the house muttering to herself: "R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Is it some secret between the bride and groom? R. S. V. P. Vot is it? I know der honor of your presence; I know der bride's parents, but I don't know R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Vot is it?"

That evening we were all at dinner when Elsie rushed in with a cry of joy. "I got it!" she said. "I hat untied der meaning of der R. S. V. P. It means Real Silver Wedding Presents!"

I was just about to drink a glass of water, so I changed my mind and nearly choked to death.

Elsie's interpretation of that wedding invitation is going to set Herman Schulz back several dollars, or I'm not a foot high.

And maybe they don't have their troubles at Troolrooral with the servant problem.

One morning later on Peaches and I were out on the top porch drinking in the glorious air and chatting with Hep Hardy, who had come out to spend Sunday with us, when Aunt Martha came bustling out, followed by Uncle Peter, who, in turn, was followed by Lizzie Joyce, their latest cook.

Lizzie wore a new lid, trimmed with prairie grass and dried daisies, hanging like a shade over the left lamp; she had a grouchy looking grip in one hand and a green umbrella with black freckles in the other.

She was made up to catch the first train that snuffed into the station.

Aunt Martha whispered to us plaintively: "Lizzie has been here only two days, and this makes the seventh time she has started for town."

But Lizzie took the center of the stage and scowled at her audience.

"I'm takin' the next train for town, mem!" she announced with considerable bitterness.

"What is it this time, Lizzie?" inquired Aunt Martha.

Lizzie put the grouchy grip down, folded her arms, and said: "Oh, I have me grievances!"

Uncle Peter sidled up to Aunt Martha and said in a hoarse whisper: "My dear, this shows a lack of firmness on your part. Now leave everything to me and let me settle this obnoxious servant once and for all!"

Uncle Peter crossed over and got in the limelight with Lizzie.

"It occurs to me," he began in polished accents, "that this is an occasion upon which I should properly put out to you the error of your way, and send you back to your humble station with a better knowledge of your status in this household."

"Scat!" said Lizzie, and Uncle Peter began to fish for his next line.

"I want you to understand," he went on, "that I pay you your wages!"

"Sure, if you didn't," was Lizzie's come-back, "I'd land on you good and hard, that I would. What else are you here for, you fathead?"

"Fath!" echoed Uncle Peter in astonishment.

"Peter, leave her to me," pleaded Aunt Martha.

But Uncle Peter rushed blindly on to destruction. "Elizabeth," he said sternly, "in view of your most unrefined and unladylike language, it behooves me to reprimand you severely. I will therefore--"

Then Lizzie and the green umbrella struck a Casey-at-the-Bat pose, and sent the old Dutch flying.

"G'wan away from me with your old novel talk or I'll place the back of me unladylike hand on your jowls!"

"Peter!" wretchedly exclaimed the perturbed Aunt Martha.

"Yes, Martha, you're right," the old gentleman said, turning hastily. "Must hurry and finish my correspondence before the moving mail goes." And he faded away.

"It isn't an easy matter to get servants out here," Aunt Martha whispered to us. "I must humor her. Now, Lizzie, what's wrong?"

"You told me, mem, that I should have a room with a southern exposure--the Queen of Bungalows."

"And isn't the room as described?" asked Aunt Martha.

"The room is all right, but I don't care for the exposure," said the Princess of Porchpops.

"Well, what's wrong?" insisted our patient auntie.

"Sure," said the Baroness of Bread the house muttering to herself: "R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Is it some secret between the bride and groom? R. S. V. P. Vot is it? I know der honor of your presence; I know der bride's parents, but I don't know R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Vot is it?"

That evening we were all at dinner when Elsie rushed in with a cry of joy. "I got it!" she said. "I hat untied der meaning of der R. S. V. P. It means Real Silver Wedding Presents!"

I was just about to drink a glass of water, so I changed my mind and nearly choked to death.

Elsie's interpretation of that wedding invitation is going to set Herman Schulz back several dollars, or I'm not a foot high.

And maybe they don't have their troubles at Troolrooral with the servant problem.

One morning later on Peaches and I were out on the top porch drinking in the glorious air and chatting with Hep Hardy, who had come out to spend Sunday with us, when Aunt Martha came bustling out, followed by Uncle Peter, who, in turn, was followed by Lizzie Joyce, their latest cook.

Lizzie wore a new lid, trimmed with prairie grass and dried daisies, hanging like a shade over the left lamp; she had a grouchy looking grip in one hand and a green umbrella with black freckles in the other.

She was made up to catch the first train that snuffed into the station.

Aunt Martha whispered to us plaintively: "Lizzie has been here only two days, and this makes the seventh time she has started for town."

But Lizzie took the center of the stage and scowled at her audience.

"I'm takin' the next train for town, mem!" she announced with considerable bitterness.

"What is it this time, Lizzie?" inquired Aunt Martha.

Lizzie put the grouchy grip down, folded her arms, and said: "Oh, I have me grievances!"

Uncle Peter sidled up to Aunt Martha and said in a hoarse whisper: "My dear, this shows a lack of firmness on your part. Now leave everything to me and let me settle this obnoxious servant once and for all!"

Uncle Peter crossed over and got in the limelight with Lizzie.

"It occurs to me," he began in polished accents, "that this is an occasion upon which I should properly put out to you the error of your way, and send you back to your humble station with a better knowledge of your status in this household."

"Scat!" said Lizzie, and Uncle Peter began to fish for his next line.

"I want you to understand," he went on, "that I pay you your wages!"

"Sure, if you didn't," was Lizzie's come-back, "I'd land on you good and hard, that I would. What else are you here for, you fathead?"

"Fath!" echoed Uncle Peter in astonishment.

"Peter, leave her to me," pleaded Aunt Martha.

But Uncle Peter rushed blindly on to destruction. "Elizabeth," he said sternly, "in view of your most unrefined and unladylike language, it behooves me to reprimand you severely. I will therefore--"

Then Lizzie and the green umbrella struck a Casey-at-the-Bat pose, and sent the old Dutch flying.

"G'wan away from me with your old novel talk or I'll place the back of me unladylike hand on your jowls!"

"Peter!" wretchedly exclaimed the perturbed Aunt Martha.

"Yes, Martha, you're right," the old gentleman said, turning hastily. "Must hurry and finish my correspondence before the moving mail goes." And he faded away.

"It isn't an easy matter to get servants out here," Aunt Martha whispered to us. "I must humor her. Now, Lizzie, what's wrong?"

"You told me, mem, that I should have a room with a southern exposure--the Queen of Bungalows."

"And isn't the room as described?" asked Aunt Martha.

"The room is all right, but I don't care for the exposure," said the Princess of Porchpops.

"Well, what's wrong?" insisted our patient auntie.

"Sure," said the Baroness of Bread the house muttering to herself: "R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Is it some secret between the bride and groom? R. S. V. P. Vot is it? I know der honor of your presence; I know der bride's parents, but I don't know R. S. V. P. Vot is it? Vot is it?"

That evening we were all at dinner when Elsie rushed in with a cry of joy. "I got it!" she said. "I hat untied der meaning of der R. S. V. P. It means Real Silver Wedding Presents!"

I was just about to drink a glass of water, so I changed my mind and nearly choked to death.

Elsie's interpretation of that wedding invitation is going to set Herman Schulz back several dollars, or I'm not a foot high.

And maybe they don't have their troubles at Troolrooral with the servant problem.

One morning later on Peaches and I were out on the top porch drinking in the glorious air and chatting with Hep Hardy, who had come out to spend Sunday with us, when

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor—A. O. Stanley
For Lieut. Governor—J. D. Black
For Sec. of State—Barksdale Hamlett
For Auditor—R. L. Greene
For Treasurer—Sherman Goodpastor
For C. C. of Appeals—R. W. Keenon
For Supt. Public In.—V. O. Gilbert
For Com. of Agri.—M. S. Cohen
For R. R. Commissioner 3rd District—Howard Stumper

For State Senator—N. B. Turpin
For Representative—John F. White
For Circuit Judge 25th District—W. R. Shackelford
For Circuit Clerk—Jas. W. Wagers City Election.

1st Ward
W. W. Broadbuss and W. L. Leeds
2nd Ward
D. W. Kennedy and Robt. Golden
3rd Ward
William O'Neal and Joe T. Arnold

CANDIDATES' CARDS
INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE
For State and District Offices—$15.00
For County Offices—$10.00
For City and County Dist. Offices—5.00

We are authorized to announce that the following persons are Democratic candidates for the offices under which their names appear, to be voted for at the primary elections in August 1915 and 1917:

COUNTY OFFICES.

Primary, August 1917.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Walter Q. Park

FOR SHERIFF

Long Tom Chennault.

G. W. Trim Deatherage.

Simeon Turpin.

P. S. Whitlock.

FOR JAILER:

Chas. S. Rogers

G. W. Dearinger.

Aaron Sharp.

FOR ASSESSOR.

W. F. Jarman.

J. W. Barclay.

Jerry B. Chambers.

Cyrus T. Stone.

Greeley Barnes

J. S. Gott

Our Guaranty is Your Protection.

It is a pleasure to sell you Meritol White Liniment on a guarantee; we know you will be satisfied in every instance where a pain killer and healer is needed. Very effective for rheumatic pains, neuralgia, lumbago, lame back, strains and swellings, and all deep seated and muscular pains. Prices 25c, 50c $1. Madison Drug Company Exclusive Agents.—Adv.

The Victor typewriter is the newest and best machine on the market.
2717 Marion Lilly, Agent.

H. C. JAMES

Will buy or sell your house, farm, town lots or any thing else in the Real Estate line. Any business intrusted to him will be promptly and carefully attended to. See him if his services are needed.

I represent iron bound Insurance Companies—remember this.

H. C. JAMES

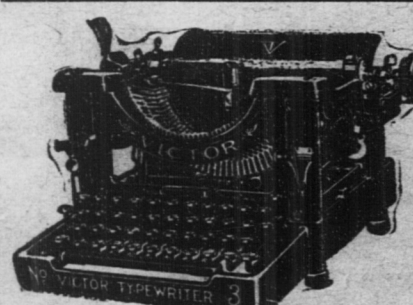

New GARAGE

Automobile Repairing Promptly and Reasonably Done

Day 788—Phones—Night 572

R. W. Montgomery, Mgr

Cor. B. and Water Streets

Points of Excellence

1. Velvet touch
2. Lightest action
3. Best tabulator
4. Beauty of construction
5. Light weight
6. Life of Ribbon four times that of other machines
7. Turns out more work in one day with less effort than any machine on the market

THE VICTOR is the Stenographer's Delight. Will TAKE IN your old machine on exchange

Marion Lilly, Agent
RICHMOND, KY

Russian Green Gaberdine Suit

Designed by Hickson & Co., New York.

THIS striking costume for youthful figures is featured in gaberdine, trimmed with self buttons and a low down belt, from which patch pocket effects depend. These are enriched with black velvet onsets, and this same material also lines the high standing collar. Both the skirt itself and the coat's skirt have three deep side plaits over the hips. A close turban of gaberdine and a smart stole of monkey fur complete the piquant effect of this fall suit.

In fashions the touch of black is a recognized addition to a color scheme. The same is true of embroidery. Many a centerpiece or scarf that lacks tone may be improved by outlining the color design with black. This is especially recommended on the heavy linen and scrim covers where brilliant hues appear unfinished or need bringing out. However, black outlining is very effective on the ordinary white linen centerpiece worked in plain white. One of these seen recently had a jewel pattern with conventional scrolls done all in white. The jewels and the scrolls were outlined with a thin black thread. The centerpiece was bordered with heavy white torchon, and the whole was very effective.

ANNA MAX.

A New Fall Motor Suit

Designed by J. M. Gidding & Co., New York.

THIS smart motor costume is developed in navy gaberdine with a high, close fur collar of gray squirrel. Both coat and skirt have a marked flare, the coat's being confined with a demi-belt under the arm. Please observe how the bottoms of the sleeves are confined to make a wind guard. The novelty of this costume is the motor bonnet of navy satin lined, with a bright bunch of gay velvet autumn leaves on one side. Cloth top boots and mannish gloves complete the outfit.

"Pastel shades—that is what we are making this year," said a well known silk manufacturer from Lyons. "Bright, crude colors are no more. The materials now in the looms are all in pastel colors—dull, faded, flat. Live colors are dead; we are not making them. Everything is pastel, pastel, pastel. Oh, of course," he added, "the new colors are exquisite. I will tell you something that you probably have not heard to produce the desired pastel effect we are using a warp of pale blue, very pale, that gives the shade. Yes, we are using a warp of blue with every color except blue."

"And with blue we use rose warp." So we are to have pastel shades, and the brilliant colors which made their appearance early in the year are to be shelved until the pendulum swings back once more, says Vogue. Even Garibaldi red—and now that Italy has joined the allies she has an influence on the pastel scheme of coloring. If it was changed until it is so dull that Garibaldi would turn over in his grave at the mere thought of it. Myrtle green appears as pastel myrtle, and of course there is pastel Bordeaux. Niggerhead is not quite the same shade that it was last year, and midnight blue—but no imagination can picture a pasteled midnight; one must wait for the silk to come from the loom.

One of the novelties of the season is a silk shot with gold or silver and widely striped with velvet. The stripes may be of uniform width—an inch and a quarter wide—or the velvet stripes may be set on the silk at intervals of two inches. Very frequently the silk background is figured in pastel.

The new hats as well as the new materials for the new frocks bear out the pastel scheme of coloring. If they are rose they are pale rose, and only in crin are there models of such a color as the once too, too popular sulphur yellow. Black crin entirely covered with black tulle formed a small turban which had a rigid bow of tulle drawn through a jet buckle.

ANNA MAX.

Bits of Byplay

By Luke McLuke

Copyright, 1915, the Cincinnati Enquirer

The Play Minstrels.

"Mr. Interlocutor, can you tell me the most ill used portion of the human body?"

"No, Mr. Bones, I cannot. Will you tell us?"

"The eye, Mr. Interlocutor."

"And why is the eye the most ill used portion of the human body, Mr. Bones?"

"Because it is under the lash all day and gets a good hiding every night."

"After the killed and mangled have been identified by their relatives Mr. B. Oosie Pypes will render that pathetic ballad 'Don't Throw Away Your Heavy Ones, For Winter Will Come Some Day.'"

Oh, Thank!

Dear Luke: There's one phrase I hear every day

Wherever I happen to stray,

In hotel and in street

And wherever men meet

They ask, "What does Luke McLuke say?"

—Bill.

Has Anybody Seen a Dark Blue Gent?

Mrs. Jack O'Hara of the Kear road found two hats, one a dark blue gent's hat and the other a lady's hat, lying in the road almost in front of her residence.—Van Wert (O.) Times.

Correct.

Don't brag about the past, old shirk,

Your record we'll allow;

What counts is how you do the work

You have in hand right now.

So They Are.

Says Luke McLuke: "There are not many sure things in this world. But here is one of them: 'A woman is always older than she thinks she looks.'"

So's a man. People are a great deal alike.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Say Not.

Your other hopes may not come true,

Your luck may seem deluded,

But when you look for trouble you

Will not be disappointed.

Paw Knows Everything.

Willie—Paw, what is the difference between a highbrow and a lowbrow?

Paw—A lowbrow says "awent," and a highbrow says "perspire," my son.

Ever Notice It.

A man will cramp his feet in shoes

And brag that he wears 7's;

But, when at night he shoes he shoes,

His feet look like 11's.

The Beardless Barbers of Beardstown.

A firm of lady barbers has rented a room in Beardstown, and will open a shop next week. The Star-Gazette says the married women's club will employ a man to stand near the door and report all married men who enter to their respective wives. No tab will be kept on bachelors, and it is expected they will have their beards cut out by the roots if constant shaving will do it. The barbers are Mrs. Sarah Truman and two daughters of Beardstown.—Carthage (Mo.) Republican.

Names Is Names.

Clinton E. is one of the few Lima Beans in Lima, O.

Things to Worry About.

The saloons are closed on Saturday in Sweden.

Our Daily Special.

The man who never makes mistakes never does anything.

Luke McLuke Says:

If a girl's hair is naturally curly she just hates to wear a hat when she goes downtown.

No matter how far down and out a man may be he can always trust a lady that there was a time when he rode in his own carriage.

When a man wants a new hat he goes into a store for an hour and tries on all the "creations."

And comes out with same up to date ideas to use in making over the old hat she is wearing.

A single man thinks he is up against it when he comes home with a bun and has to chase the bed around for the room for a while before he can catch the bed.

But the most unpleasant sensation is that experienced by the married man who wakes up in the morning with a dead mink in his mouth and then suddenly remembers that he forgot to take that pair of elbow length gloves out of his overcoat pocket before he came home.

That longing to pay board for the other half of the world is what causes all the trouble for our half of the world.

The fellow who doesn't know enough to write a capital "I" when he is writing about himself always knows enough to use a capital "I" when he is talking about himself.

Always remember that if you got all your money in the bank you wouldn't be enough to go around.

The lad who gets a pass always knows that the show is rotten and always wonders why the railroad doesn't supply a better roadbed.

Adam blamed the woman. And when the rest of us got caught we can't think of a more original excuse.

A man often thinks of a lot of grand things he could do for his wife and his children if he didn't need the money for himself.

Live Stock Receipts

The combined receipts of live stock at six Western markets last week includes Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph and Sioux City were 137,500 cattle, 248,300 hogs, and 189,000 sheep. On the corresponding week of last year the receipts at these markets were 124,100 cattle, 251,100 hogs, and 222,500 sheep. From January 1, 1915, to the close of the week, the combined receipts at the same markets were 3,798,000 cattle, 12,267,000 hogs, 5,580,000 sheep. For the corresponding period of last year the receipts at these markets were 3,644,000 cattle, 10,534,000 hogs, and 6,916,000 sheep, showing a gain of 1,783,000 hogs, and a loss of 1,836,000 sheep.—Farmers Home Journal.

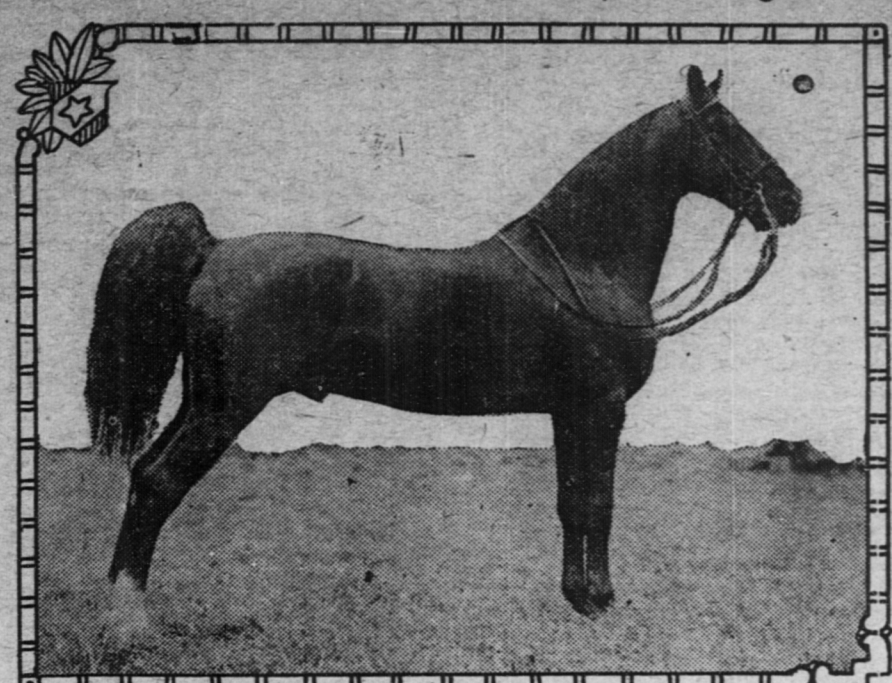

Dead Londoners.

London has over ninety thousand dead residents.

See Brock & Evans about that Life Insurance policy you ought to have. They have the company.

Keep your money in circulation by handing us that dollar you owe us.

Kentucky's Pride

Great Saddle Horse Events at Kentucky State Fair, Featuring Entries That Challenge the World

WITH tradition that thrills the heart of every true born Kentuckian and horsehead that makes the most spectacular story a matter of course, it is perfectly natural that the piece de resistance, the banner event, the limelight feature of the entire Kentucky State Fair celebration should be the Commission of Agriculture Five Gaited Saddle Horse Stake, which will be shown this year on Friday night, Sept. 17, in the big $100,000 Pavilion on the Fair grounds.

The entries for this event closed July 1, and State Fair Secretary J. L. Dent declares that the lineup this year in this ring will be the largest, showiest and most hotly contested the State Fair has ever known. There are some changes this year in the entry rules and prize list, and, while the total money aggregate is $24,000 as against $8,000 last year, the reduction in entry fee to $25 and the distribution of prize moneys are such as to make the ring of far more value to horsemen than heretofore.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE SADDLE HORSE STAKE, VALUE $24,000.

For five gaited saddle horses, stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over, to be shown under saddle in accordance with the rules of the Kentucky State Fair governing five gaited saddle horses. Stake divided as follows: $450 to first horse, $200 to second, $275 to third, $250 to fourth, $225 to fifth, $200 to sixth, $175 to seventh, $150 to eighth.

$25 to nominate July 1, when horses must be named, but entries may be transferred and another horse substituted on Sept. 1 upon payment of $60 additional. Six per cent deducted from money winners. If more than fifteen entries are received an additional $100 will be divided among the nonwinners showing. Guaranteed by Hon. J. W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture of Kentucky.

A $100 silver trophy will be added to first prize.

ROADSTER STAKE, $10,000.

For roadster stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over. Stake divided as follows: $250 to first, $175 to second, $150 to third, $125 to fourth, $100 to fifth, $75 to sixth and $50 to seventh.

Three per cent to nominate July 1. The name of the horse not required at the time of closing stake, but must be filed with the secretary by Sept. 1, 1915. Five per cent additional from money winners. If more than fifteen entries are received all additional entry fees will be added to first premium. Nominations may be transferred prior to Sept. 1, 1915.

FINE HARNESS STAKE, $1,000.

For fine harness stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over. Stake divided as follows: $250 to first, $175 to second, $150 to third, $125 to fourth, $100 to fifth, $75 to sixth and $50 to seventh. Payments and conditions same as in Roadster Stake above.

STAKE FOR REGISTERED SADDLE BRED THREE-YEAR-OLDS.

$10 to nominate July 1, 1915, when name, number, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $100, provided as many as five show. No substitutions allowed.

Considerations: Type, finish and ability to properly perform the five galls.

STAKE FOR SADDLE BRED YEAR-LINGS.

To be shown in two divisions, one for colts and one for fillies.

$5 to nominate July 1, when name, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $50 to each division, provided as many as five show.

STAKE FOR SADDLE BRED FOALS

To be shown in two divisions, one for colts and one for fillies.

$250 to nominate July 1, when name, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $50 to each division, provided as many as five show.

ROADSTER STAKE, $10,000.

For roadster stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over. Stake divided as follows: $250 to first, $175 to second, $150 to third, $125 to fourth, $100 to fifth, $75 to sixth and $50 to seventh.

Three per cent to nominate July 1. The name of the horse not required at the time of closing stake, but must be filed with the secretary by Sept. 1, 1915. Five per cent additional from money winners. If more than fifteen entries are received all additional entry fees will be added to first premium. Nominations may be transferred prior to Sept. 1, 1915.

FINE HARNESS STAKE, $1,000.

For fine harness stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over. Stake divided as follows: $250 to first, $175 to second, $150 to third, $125 to fourth, $100 to fifth, $75 to sixth and $50 to seventh. Payments and conditions same as in Roadster Stake above.

STAKE FOR REGISTERED SADDLE BRED THREE-YEAR-OLDS.

$10 to nominate July 1, 1915, when name, number, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $100, provided as many as five show. No substitutions allowed.

Considerations: Type, finish and ability to properly perform the five galls.

STAKE FOR SADDLE BRED YEAR-LINGS.

To be shown in two divisions, one for colts and one for fillies.

$5 to nominate July 1, when name, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $50 to each division, provided as many as five show.

STAKE FOR SADDLE BRED FOALS

To be shown in two divisions, one for colts and one for fillies.

$250 to nominate July 1, when name, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $50 to each division, provided as many as five show.

ROADSTER STAKE, $10,000.

For roadster stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over. Stake divided as follows: $250 to first, $175 to second, $150 to third, $125 to fourth, $100 to fifth, $75 to sixth and $50 to seventh.

Three per cent to nominate July 1. The name of the horse not required at the time of closing stake, but must be filed with the secretary by Sept. 1, 1915. Five per cent additional from money winners. If more than fifteen entries are received all additional entry fees will be added to first premium. Nominations may be transferred prior to Sept. 1, 1915.

FINE HARNESS STAKE, $1,000.

For fine harness stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over. Stake divided as follows: $250 to first, $175 to second, $150 to third, $125 to fourth, $100 to fifth, $75 to sixth and $50 to seventh. Payments and conditions same as in Roadster Stake above.

STAKE FOR REGISTERED SADDLE BRED THREE-YEAR-OLDS.

$10 to nominate July 1, 1915, when name, number, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $100, provided as many as five show. No substitutions allowed.

Considerations: Type, finish and ability to properly perform the five galls.

STAKE FOR SADDLE BRED YEAR-LINGS.

To be shown in two divisions, one for colts and one for fillies.

$5 to nominate July 1, when name, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $50 to each division, provided as many as five show.

STAKE FOR SADDLE BRED FOALS

To be shown in two divisions, one for colts and one for fillies.

$250 to nominate July 1, when name, color and sire and dam must be given. Money divided 40 per cent to first, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third, 10 per cent to fourth and 10 per cent to fifth.

All money received will be paid to the winners, and the State Fair will add $50 to each division, provided as many as five show.

ROADSTER STAKE, $10,000.

For roadster stallions, mares or geldings, three years old or over. Stake divided as follows: $250 to first, $175 to second, $150 to third, $125 to fourth, $

Danger Signals of Tuberculosis

In a previous article, it was stated that nearly everybody has tuberculosis at some time or other during his lifetime. Autopsies on people have shown that hardly a single human being reaches maturity without a scar on his lungs or elsewhere showing where tuberculosis had attacked him, and he, by his normal resistance and vitality, had warded off the continuation of the attack.

Because tuberculosis is so widespread, every man, woman and child should give the most careful attention to those signs of the disease which point out danger. The treacherous disease germs may enter the body in early childhood and may not cause any serious trouble for ten or fifteen years. Then, all of a sudden, when the body is weakened by overwork, worry, sickness, or bad living and working conditions, these sleeping germs wake up and become active in the destruction of the lungs or other organs. The working man or woman, therefore, cannot be too careful in the safeguarding of health and in watching out for those symptoms which indicate that the disease of tuberculosis is actually present. What, then, are some of the danger signals and what should be done about them?

(1) First of all, there is a cough that hangs on and will not clear up. If it lasts for a month or longer, it is a red light, a danger signal, which you cannot afford to ignore. It may start with wet feet or some other insignificant circumstance, but no matter how the cough started, if it does not go away, see your doctor at once. Colds frequently weaken the bodily tone and resistance, so that it is easy for the lurking germs to get a foothold.

(2) Loss of weight, accompanied by a loss of appetite, and a certain amount of "stomach trouble" is another danger signal, which you must not pass unheeded. Sometimes loss of weight may come from some other cause than tuberculosis, but it pays to be on your guard. You may not have a cough, and you may experience very little trouble except a sort of chronic weakness. You ought to know what your normal weight should be. If you begin to lose five, ten or more pounds without any apparent reason, look for sound medical advice at once. Sometimes with loss of weight goes a loss of appetite, and trouble with bowels and stomach, even running to diarrhea. Whether you are losing much weight or not, look out for this danger signal. It is a warning that something is wrong.

(3) Then there is that run-down, all-the-time-tired feeling. Most people have days when they feel unusually tired, for some reason or other. Such an occasional period of "spring fever" or "lazy liver" may not be at all dangerous, but when every day for two or three weeks you hate to get up and dread to do anything but lie around and be lazy, there is danger ahead. This is Nature's warning to you that some enemy inside your body is sapping your vitality. Don't ignore the warning signals.

(4) Any one of the three symptoms just mentioned may occur singly or all of them may come at one time. When, to any or all, there is added a fever in the late afternoon or during the night, accompanied possibly by sweats, beware of this danger signal. It is a bright red flag which Nature waves before you, cautioning you to give immediate heed. Anyone's temperature may rise at times, some people's more easily than others. But when for a week every afternoon about four or five o'clock you've felt feverish, or when night after night you wake up in a dripping sweat, you may rest assured that there is nothing normal about that. Go to your doctor at once and tell him about it. You may have no cough and no other sign of disease, and this may be the only warning you'll get. Give heed to it at once.

(5) If you have a cough and in spitting you find streaks of blood in your sputum, you may rest assured that something is wrong. It may not be a direct sign of tuberculosis, but whatever it is, you should attend to it at once. You cannot afford to waste time putting it off. Nature may give you that more emphatic warning of the presence of tuberculosis, a hemorrhage of the lungs. If so, don't be scared unduly. It is a danger signal, and if you heed it, you may be safe.

There are other danger signals, some which you can see and some which only a trained physician can detect. Your safety lies in getting medical attention as early as possible. Tuberculosis can be cured if it is discovered in time. The time to discover it is when the first symptoms show themselves. Don't take chances with death. You'll lose every time.

Go to a good doctor, if you notice any of these danger signals, and insist that he examine you stripped to the waist. If you can't afford a doctor, go to a free clinic and be examined. It may cost a few dollars to be examined, but it may save you hundreds of dollars, untold suffering, and possibly your life and that of your wife and family.

"SAFETY FIRST" is a motto that applies to tuberculosis, especially when it is first showing itself.

[NOTE—This is the Fourth of a Series of Five Articles Prepared by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, New York City.]

Behind the Guns

By ALEX SHELL BRISCOE

(Copyright, The Frank A. Munsey Co.)

Stephen Barrow paused in his work of mixing dough to listen to the distant pulsing of the battle. The rasping rifle volleys sounded from a point nearer at hand and he knew that there had been changes in the positions of the batteries, too.

Yes, the trenches were retreating again. From the hill he could see cavalry already crossing the Marne.

Well, that had been the regular thing since the English expeditionary force had bumped into the German legion at Mons, far to the north in Belgium. Stephen could hardly recall how many days had passed since this steady retirement had begun. It seemed to him that it had been going on for months—years.

He had been disappointed in the campaign from the very outset—from the day he had accepted the king's shilling to fight for the union jack. Neither events nor his part in them had come up to his expectations. In the first place he had been transferred to the commissary department to mix dough and bake bread instead of fighting, and then he had seen the army hurled backward toward Paris in the initial battle—and since then the English had been retreating to new positions as a matter of daily routine.

But bitter as the constant retirement was to the men in the battle line, it was doubly so to Stephen. Occasionally they had an opportunity of turning on their pursuers, but he was everlastingly mixing dough without a chance of feeling the kick of a rifle against his shoulder.

Now they were retreating again. Infantry in small detachments was crossing the bridge over the Marne, and the tops of the hills beyond were dotted with white puffs of smoke which marked bursting shrapnel. A regiment moved past toward a position on the river bank, and Stephen studied it casually.

Somehow the bearing of the men cheered him. They were grimmer, leaner, dirtier than when they landed in France, but they were still full of fight and confidence.

Every man seemed waiting impatiently for the day when he should turn his face north and help even the score with the Germans.

And the time for the stand was near at hand, they believed, and Stephen did too. The impetuous little wing rested against the forts of Paris; the river provided a strong line of defense, and to retreat farther meant severing communications with the capital. Yes, without doubt, the allies were about to stop and fight.

But the thought deepened Stephen's gloom.

He was a tall man of twenty-eight, with a jaw that jutted forward at a pugnacious angle, and he yearned for the bearing of the men cheered him. They were grimmer, leaner, dirtier than when they landed in France, but they were still full of fight and confidence.

Every man seemed waiting impatiently for the day when he should turn his face north and help even the score with the Germans.

And the time for the stand was near at hand, they believed, and Stephen did too. The impetuous little wing rested against the forts of Paris; the river provided a strong line of defense, and to retreat farther meant severing communications with the capital. Yes, without doubt, the allies were about to stop and fight.

But the thought deepened Stephen's gloom.

He was a tall man of twenty-eight, with a jaw that jutted forward at a pugnacious angle, and he yearned for the bearing of the men cheered him. They were grimmer, leaner, dirtier than when they landed in France, but they were still full of fight and confidence.

Every man seemed waiting impatiently for the day when he should turn his face north and help even the score with the Germans.

And the time for the stand was near at hand, they believed, and Stephen did too. The impetuous little wing rested against the forts of Paris; the river provided a strong line of defense, and to retreat farther meant severing communications with the capital. Yes, without doubt, the allies were about to stop and fight.

But the thought deepened Stephen's gloom.

He was a tall man of twenty-eight, with a jaw that jutted forward at a pugnacious angle, and he yearned for sawed more than ever to take part in the fighting. But he knew his desire was futile. Duty would send other men to the front; duty would force him to mix dough while they battled.

At dawn the German guns opened fire, grumbling like a tired sleeper awakened too early; then for the first time in weeks of active campaigning, Stephen saw a real battle begin. The commissary wagons were back of a ridge hardly a half mile behind the line of rifle pits, and from the top of the hill he could see the whole battlefield in the bend of the river.

The infantry advanced into the trenches, each man working diligently with his bayonet to "dig himself in" deeper, using planks, branches of trees, or any other material at hand to construct overhead coverings as a protection from shrapnel. A group of staff officers galloped the length of the lines, then the English batteries went into action, firing at regular intervals as they tried out the range of their guns.

The cannonading swelled to a steady pulsing roar that answered the throb of German howitzers masked in the hills beyond the river and soon the black spurt of smoke from high explosive shells mingled with the white cotton balls of bursting shrapnel.

All morning Stephen watched the Germans attempting to force their way across the river.

He paused in his work to see an English battery launch a poison-bomb bridge to pieces, and marveled when the Germans went doggedly to work to rebuild it, while their guns concentrated a deadly fire on the pieces which had caused the damage.

From both sides he heard the throb of cannon and the smashing of rifle volleys—like the sound of hail on a glass skylight. For miles up and down the river the battle was in progress, and at every point the German onslaught was equally determined. The pontoon bridge was completed again, and ghost-gray thousands poured over it.

Cavalry battalions swam their horses across the stream, and under the shelter of the high banks the infantry legions massed themselves for an attack.

They waited while their artillery drenched the English position with shrapnel, then surged out from under cover in gray hordes, and with a rip and a dash they crossed the river, the infantry cut loose the rackets swelled by the wicked snarl of machine-guns which were spraying the advancing lines with steel-jacketed bullets.

Into the little village, now deserted by its inhabitants, poured a German column, and as the English shells plumped down among the houses, thin plumes of smoke—which thickened and grew blacker—appeared at a dozen points. But the Germans did not hesitate.

As the burning town they swept, while other columns advanced on each side, and across the river the living stream still flowed.

In the fields the solid masses spread out fanwise and charged up the slope toward the trenches. Now they were at the foot of the hill, and Stephen could no longer see the ones directly in front of where he stood; but on each side he had a good view of their onward rush, little flashes of light glinting from bayonets fixed for the charge.

Machine-guns and rifles took heavy toll.

The ground the Germans passed over was carpeted with withering or motionless figures; but every trench was full of men, and went on. The attack seemed irresistible—their numbers hardly diminished.

Halfway up the hill the Germans faltered as an enfilading battery plowed red furrows through their ranks; but it was only for a moment; then they pulled themselves together and surged upward. At the edge of the hill Stephen saw the English clamoring out of the trenches and heard the final volleys that withered the charging host and, above the thudding of cannon and the spitting rain of rifles, the deep shout of the infantry as they met steel with steel.

Back down the slope rolled the red line of battle!

Stephen caught the imperative call of bugles commanding the English to retire to the trenches and watched the Germans reform and again storm forward to the attack, only to be flung back. A third time they hurled themselves upon the English, but this time they were more quickly checked.

Another battery had been brought into position and the gray forces broke halfway up the hill—broke and recoiled in confusion.

A yell of victory arose; caps waved from the British lines, then again the men burrowed in the holes they had dug as the storm of shrapnel was resumed.

Stephen swung his hat and cheered too; but secretly he was aflame with revolt because he could not take an active part in the fighting. A great, shapeless part of the fighting was on, and he was a mere spectator.

He realized he should be mixing dough, for the men in the trenches would be hungry. They must be fed so they could fight again.

But even as he turned back to take up his work there came a shout. Men were running about among the wagons, horses were being harnessed; already some of the vehicles were moving away.

For a moment Stephen stared bewildered; then after a glance toward the west, he too, broke into a run.

Stephen's driver was backing the team with a shout and a swing of his whip as his comrade leaped to the seat of the big oven. The crest of a hill to the west was swarming with gray-clad figures. The English were fleeing before them. The line had been broken by a force which had charged up the steep banks along the Marne.

Whether the Germans could hold the position under the fire of the English batteries and could cut off the force entrenched on the little plateau was yet to be decided; but, meantime, the vicinity was no place for a commissary train.

At the foot of the ridge a road ran east and west. At the top of the hill the top speed of their lumbering horses, camp kettles sloshing and splashing, from ovens clanging as they jumped over the stones.

A cloud of dust appeared in front, and the wagons turned aside into a shallow ditch while a battery wheeled by, gun after gun; the rattling caissons, and after them cavalry, all in a desperate hurry to save the infantry from rout.

At the same time the air seemed suddenly full of shrieking things that burst with thunder-claps and scattered death! The Germans had brought guns across the Marne, and they had the range.

When the battery and cavalry had passed, the commissary wagons turned back into the road and raced on in an effort to get beyond the zone of fire; but disaster quickly overtook them. A shell struck a heavy van, the vehicle following it toppled over into a ditch in an effort to drive past the wreck, and the road was blocked, while German field-pieces calmly waded the train from end to end.

Every shell added to the confusion. The road quickly became a litter of smashed wagons and dead horses. Drivers were cutting loose the animals and riding away. It was obviously impossible to extricate the train, and Stephen was about to follow the example of his fleeing comrades when around a turn came a black ammunition wagon, its driver lashing his horses.

Plunging into the piled-up mass of wreckage it drove!

Stephen reached the scene as the driver, who had been hurled from his seat, staggered to his feet, and from his blasphemous comments he learned the reasons for the others' haste. The infantry on the plateau was running short of ammunition.

There had been a bungle somewhere, and the word had been wagged that unless ammunition arrived soon the troops would be helpless.

It was then that Stephen qualified as a man in an emergency. The ammunition wagon was overturned, one of its horses was down with a broken leg; but nearby stood a big wheeled trough, in which dough for the camp bakery was mixed. Its horses had not been touched as yet by the rain of shells.

Promptly Stephen took command of the situation.

No officer was near, and the men followed him as promptly as they always will a natural leader whether he wears shoulder-straps or not. Willing hands ripped a passage through a hedge which surrounded an adjoining field, while others hastily transferred boxes of cartridges from the ammunition wagon to the camp bakery trough.

When the gap was open Stephen took the reins, the driver of the ammunition wagon swung up beside him, and they drove through the hedge. Shells were bursting around them. Any moment one might hit the wagon.

There was more than half a mile of open country, swept by bullets, to be crossed. It was his first experience under fire; but he did not hesitate. There was no time even to think of shells.

Many of the Belgian beet sugar factories are operating, notwithstanding the war. The manufacturers, it is announced, state that they have no expectation of making any profits, but they are doing a great work in that they are saving $5,000,000 worth of beet and are providing employment and a livelihood for their hands.

ASSERTS SHE WAS AFRAID OF SHADOW

Miss Underhill Says Tanlac Has Relieved Her of Nervousness

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7. "I was so nervous I actually was afraid of my shadow," Miss Christine Underhill, assistant manager of the soda fountain at the Herman Straus Company's store, this city, told friends recently when relating her experience with Tanlac, the premier preparation.

"I had all sorts of hallucinations and worried about all kinds of trifles," Miss Underhill continued. "I knew that I was suffering from excessive nervousness and was in a terribly run-down condition. I tried many medicines without being benefited. I finally decided to try Tanlac."

"To say that I was benefited would be expressing myself in too mild a manner. I was astonished at the result. After taking only a few doses I noticed a marked improvement. My entire nervous system seemed to have undergone a wonderful change. My sleep became restful and refreshing and my appetite reappeared."

"Really," she laughingly added, "I ate so ravenously that I was afraid my board bill would be raised."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is now on sale in Richmond, at Perry's Drug Store.

ADVERTISE YOUR TOWN By Having its Name on the Envelope of Every Letter You Send. Let Us Quote Prices For Printing Your Stationery.

See Brock & Evans for Mail Insurance on your tobacco 10-1

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Insuring a Family

THIS consumptive girl lived in a little house with her parents and four brothers and a sister. When the visiting nurse of the city called upon her she found the whole family in danger of contracting tuberculosis from the young woman through ignorance of the proper methods of caring for the patient. The nurse instructed the members of the family about the preparation of the girl's food and the care of her room, so as to give her every chance for life. Most important of all, the nurse showed how the disease—tuberculosis—is spread from one person to another through the spit and spray from the mouth of a consumptive. They were taught that all of the expectations should be caught in paper boxes or napkins and burned. Those instructions practically insured the lives of the other members of the family.

Best prices in town on hay, corn, oats, feed seeds, etc., at Elmer Tyle's, Irvine street. Phone 795.

Every Shell Added to the Confusion.

to get transferred to the infantry, I'm rather sure they'd be glad to get a hundred thousand like you."

"You think so?" Stephen spoke eagerly. "I'm going to make application as soon as I can. I sure would like to get into just one battle."

A slow grin overspread the doctor's face, and he ran his eyes over Stephen as though taking an inventory. "That's too bad," he said dryly; "and you're not likely to be able to have a chance soon. You've a hole through your right thigh, a bullet in your left shoulder, a superficial furrow of the scalp, the calf of your right leg was drilled twice, and you have three minor flesh wounds."

"You've been mentioned in dispatches for that ammunition stunt of yours, and the chance are you'll land a nice decoration that many a staff officer would give his left leg for. Yes, it's tough you never had a chance to get into a battle."

Saving Belgian Beets.

Many of the Belgian beet sugar factories are operating, notwithstanding the war. The manufacturers, it is announced, state that they have no expectation of making any profits, but they are doing a great work in that they are saving $5,000,000 worth of beet and are providing employment and a livelihood for their hands.

ASSERTS SHE WAS AFRAID OF SHADOW

Miss Underhill Says Tanlac Has Relieved Her of Nervousness

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7. "I was so nervous I actually was afraid of my shadow," Miss Christine Underhill, assistant manager of the soda fountain at the Herman Straus Company's store, this city, told friends recently when relating her experience with Tanlac, the premier preparation.

"I had all sorts of hallucinations and worried about all kinds of trifles," Miss Underhill continued. "I knew that I was suffering from excessive nervousness and was in a terribly run-down condition. I tried many medicines without being benefited. I finally decided to try Tanlac."

"To say that I was benefited would be expressing myself in too mild a manner. I was astonished at the result. After taking only a few doses I noticed a marked improvement. My entire nervous system seemed to have undergone a wonderful change. My sleep became restful and refreshing and my appetite reappeared."

"Really," she laughingly added, "I ate so ravenously that I was afraid my board bill would be raised."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is now on sale in Richmond, at Perry's Drug Store.

ADVERTISE YOUR TOWN By Having its Name on the Envelope of Every Letter You Send. Let Us Quote Prices For Printing Your Stationery.

See Brock & Evans for Mail Insurance on your tobacco 10-1

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Insuring a Family

THIS consumptive girl lived in a little house with her parents and four brothers and a sister. When the visiting nurse of the city called upon her she found the whole family in danger of contracting tuberculosis from the young woman through ignorance of the proper methods of caring for the patient. The nurse instructed the members of the family about the preparation of the girl's food and the care of her room, so as to give her every chance for life. Most important of all, the nurse showed how the disease—tuberculosis—is spread from one person to another through the spit and spray from the mouth of a consumptive. They were taught that all of the expectations should be caught in paper boxes or napkins and burned. Those instructions practically insured the lives of the other members of the family.

Best prices in town on hay, corn, oats, feed seeds, etc., at Elmer Tyle's, Irvine street. Phone 795.

Bits of Byplay

By Luke McLuke

Copyright, 1915, the Cincinnati Enquirer

The Wise Fool. "Some day the lion and the lamb will lie down together," observed the sage.

"Maybe," agreed the fool, "but the lion will be the only one that gets up."

Huh! They say that time is money. But if it is I'm dashed. For folks think I'm real funny because I want mine cashed.

Paw Knows Everything. Willie—Paw, is it proper to say that a man was given in marriage?

Paw—No, my son. A girl is given in marriage. The man always gets sold.

Maw—Willie, you go out in the back yard and stay there.

Cheer Up! Don't sit around and whine and pout because you haven't wealth. For you are never down and out as long as you have health.

The Byplay Minstrel. "Mr. Interlocutor, can you tell me the difference between a palmitist and a bartender?"

"No, Mr. Bones, I cannot. Will you elucidate the difference?"

"We go to the palmitist when we want our hands read, and we go to the bartender when we want our noses red."

Same Old Stuff. Before they married, he was bound to her he'd be devoted. He thought that she was sweet, but found that she was sugar coated.

Sure. "I wonder what has become of the old fashioned dime novel?" remarked the old fogey.

"It has gone up to a dollar and a half," replied the grouch.

Hot. "Though ice should keep a fellow cool," remarked old Mr. Pott.

"The average man is such a fool his ice bill makes him hot."

Names Is Names. I. B. Sickness is an undertaker at Montrose, Mo.

Cheese It! Dear Luke: I may interest you to know that A. Trapp has rented a flat in the Ritz apartment house in this city.

—Hamilton, O.

Now I'll Bet He'll Behave! We are in receipt of an anonymous communication advising us that a young married man of this city is going about with girls and passing himself as single. If this nefarious practice is repeated we shall report the offender to Luke McLuke—Charleston (W. Va.) Gazette.

Thank! Dear Luke—Keep up the good work. We will never grow old as long as you give us our daily laughs.—Ohio Girl, Toy Town Tavern, Winchendon, Mass.

Daily Health Hint. Never use a hammer to extract the bullet from a cartridge.

Things to Worry About. All of the glaciers in Switzerland are shrinking.

Our Daily Special. Some kings and all women are born to rule.

Luke McLuke Says: A lot of the people who talk to the Lord every day consider themselves too good to talk to their next door neighbors.

It takes a woman who has four closets filled with clothes to keep on indignantly because she has nothing to wear.

After a woman has been married long enough she discovers that the later a man has to stay downtown and "work at the office" the less money he has on pay day.

One man sits around and talks about what he is going to do while the other man goes ahead and does it. Then the first man will begin knocking the second man because the latter is so prosperous.

A city man sees so much silk and plush and paint that he would be good for sore eyes to get a look at a rosy cheeked country girl wearing a calico dress.

Once upon a time a man got a change of heart and decided that he would never again lie to his wife, and that he would tell her the truth about everything. He got home at 6 p. m. and at 6:15 p. m. the ambulance was hauling him to the morgue.

The old fashioned man who used to come home loaded down with groceries and bundles now has a son who is too high toned to carry a bundle, but who brings home a package almost every night.

Another reason for the high cost of living is because every woman wants to be dressed better than other women. It is strange how fond of bathing a boy is in summer and how much he detests bathing in winter.

A woman is as certain that her brand is the best brand of baking powder as a man is that his brand is the best brand of booze.

When a woman is around thirty and still unmarried she gives an awful lot of talking about "us girls."

Its our dollar and WE NEED IT

Richmond A Mighty Good Town Richmond is a mighty good town, worthy of the best of everything. That's why we have joined the American Drug and Press Association and offer to our people the Meritol line of preparations, made by the Association and sold only through its members. There is nothing like these goods guaranteed in every way. We want Richmond people to have the best there is, so we offer you this line. Ask to see Meritol goods. Madison Drug Company Local Agents

Advertisement

Big Tobacco Shipment

Hopkinsville. The feature of last week's tobacco market here was the shipment of a solid trainload of hogs head tobacco consigned to European countries. This tobacco went from here to New Orleans where it was to be loaded into sailing vessels and sent to France and Spain. There were between 500 and 600 hogsheads in the shipment.

IS YOUR BABY HEALTHY?

Pretty and Sweet, but Is It Sound?—Science Alone Can Tell You This—The Babies' Health Contest Is a Godsend to Mothers and One of the Vitally Interesting Features of the Kentucky State Fair, Sept. 13-18

Cusick Studio, Louisville, Ky.

A PERFECTLY HEALTHY BABY.

FOR many years it has been the custom to pit cooling, laughing, dimpled children against each other in beauty contests, and many a grownup looks with amused pride at a prize of cup or ring or ribbon certifying that when a wee, infant he or she was a winner, but now the beauty contest has been superseded by the health contest, and in the march of civilization and higher education mothers look with searching thought upon the superficially charming child and seek to learn if beneath the gloss of curl and pink of skin dwells the fundamental of lasting loveliness—perfect health.

In this age of enlightenment, when constantly parted rose leaf lips spell ailments, uncertain movements defective sight, apparent stupidity poor hearing, or frail limbs malnutrition, there are countless signs which signal danger to a parent who is enlightened, and for this reason there has been a country wide movement to instruct mothers and fathers along this line, no branch of which has been more valuable than the health contest held at various state fairs.